Youths threatened with knife by teenagers

Two juveniles who were visiting Georgetown from North Bay last week had jack knives held to their throats in the Delrex Boulevard, Metcalfe Court area, police said.

Police describe the threatening youths as about 13 or 14 years old, dressed in blue jeans and blue jean jackets.

A Churchill Crescent resident leaving an Armstrong Street parking lot Oct. 14 discovered that a five gallon container being used to siphon gasoline from his tank was still attached to his car by the siphoning hose, police said. A car with occupants left the scene at a high rate of speed, police said.

Thieves made off with 13 sheets of fir plywood valued at $130 from a construction site on Halton Road 32 between the Eighth and Ninth Lines, Oct. 13, police said.

Police have a description of two teenage youths who made a noise at the front and rear entrances of a Normandy Boulevard residence, Oct. 11. The youths were frightened off when the house's occupant, looking out of the window, spotted them.
