

DOROTHY HUNT PRESENTS CHARLES CLIFFORD WITH A CHEQUE FOLLOWING A BENEFIT PERFORMANCE WEDNESDAY, LOOKING ON IS PRESIDENT BOB LEE.

GLT provides a winner

If Georgetown Little Theatre's production of How The Other Half Loves is any indication, then patrons are in for a fun season.

The production of Alan Aykbourn's play went very smooth except for two small problems in the first act during the performance Thursday even-

The first was a slight problem with acoustics at the rear of the Howard Wrigglesworth school auditorium, which in Itself may have been the root cause, and also a slowing down in timing of some key exchanges among the charact-

But generally, the 700 people who witnessed the four performances got their money's ly. worth.

Director Ron Hunt, who spent more than six weeks in rehearsal and casted the sixcharacter play after reading about 15 people for the parts seemed satisfied.
