

LOCAL WOMAN WINS CAR

Helen Bilik, of Delrex Boulevard, Georgetown, accepts the keys to her new Toyota station wagon from Loblaw's Ltd. special promotion manager Ralph Srigley at a special presentation last week in Toronto. Mrs. Bilik was the lucky winner of the firm's contest held between mid-October and the end of November to mark the re-opening of its Georgetown Market Plaza store following an expansion.

Questions over watermain

Council has approved payment of the costs of installing a water extension on Maple Avenue despite charges its action may be illegal. Two months ago controversy surrounded the installation of the water service for a 40-unit townhouse development owned by developer Al Pilutti. Council agreed that since it had set the selling price of units and no specific agreement was signed over services, it should not penalize the developer. Retiring Coun. Dick Howitt, sole opponent to the proposed action called a recorded vote. Treasurer Jay King has been asked to verify the legality of council's action since two members of council said they believe no funds can be spent between an election and the installation of a new council. The municipal elections were held Dec. 6. "The developer agreed to install it (the services) at his own expense and I don't intend to see the taxpayer's money used for this," Mr. Howitt said. "This is an unforced expense and it's not in the budget."

New logo for Scouts

The North Halton District Council of Boy Scouts introduced a new logo scouting symbol.

It is hoped to identify Scoutings communication and improve the public's image of scouting.

"We emphasize the outdoors in camping through the shape of the logo," Gerald Callaghan, district spokesman said.

It is seen by some, as a tripod over a fire (outdoors) and by others as a wall tent (camping).

We are part of a world-wide brotherhood net through the use of the world scouting fleur-de-lis, with the Canadian Maple Leaf indicating Canada, he said.

All groups have started using this symbol since September 1976, and it is hoped to be in widespread use by 1978. We hope to get the public's maximum support by developing a consistent approach to the use of the new logo symbol.

The logo is flag red and black on a white background.
