I enjoyed that nice picture of me you sent with your letter. Your little snack for me on Christmas Eve will be just the thing to give me the energy to get all my rounds completed before little boys and girls awake on Christmas morning. It certainly will be a long night. Have a very Merry Christmas Chrissy and I won't forget your baby brother Kenny.

Santa.

Dear Christine:

I will find a way to place your presents under the Christmas tree even though you have no fireplace and you may forget to leave the back door open for me. Santa has always found a way to delight all his children on Christmas Day, you know, and this year will be no exception. You might say I'm an old hand at it. Oh, that drawing you made of me makes me feel 20 years younger. Thank you for drawing it. I hope you won't mind Christine, but I just may not be able to leave the note for you on Christmas morning. As you know I'm so busy Christmas Eve with so many things on my mind about leaving presents for all the young boys and girls that I sometimes forget the little things. I wouldn't want to disappoint you by forgetting it, but it could happen. Will you forgive me? Mrs. Claus does when I forget to do those little things around the house. Have a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year too. Oh, and sometimes I do wear glasses.

Santa.

Dear Santa:

I have tried to be good. I want Hugo and Maskatrone. How are the elves? I wish you a Happy Christmas. I am 7.

Love Ronald

Dear Ronald:

Thanks for the Happy Christmas. My elves are all fine and wish you along with me and Mrs. Claus a very Merry Christmas.

Santa

Dear Santa Claus:
Thank you for bringing me all these lovely toys last year. Do you think you could bring me Big Jim Evil Zorak and Flight deck of Starship Enterprise and torpedo fist Eagley G.I. Joe and mission control centre for the six million dollar man, and Evil Knievel stunt cycle.

I will leave you a hot drink and some cookies. I hope you will have a good time and how is Mrs. Claus getting along and how are your reindeer. Merry Christmas.

Robert Lewis
15 Hyland Avenue
Georgetown

Dear Robert:

Ho! Ho! Ho! My reindeer are all fine and ready for the world trip this weekend. I hope you are all prepared for Christmas, too. Mrs. Claus is busy in the kitchen baking all those nice things you and I like so much—cookies, candies and sweet things. I will look forward to the cookies and a hot drink you leave. It will be very refreshing. Thank you. Have a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Santa

Dear Santa:

I want a doll, Baby Alive, and then we like our Christmas tree so much. Is Rudolph a real reindeer? If we have a guest like you, can we stay up.

Julie McEachern
Belfountain

Dear Julie

It's very nice to hear from a little girl up in Belfountain. I hope there's plenty of snow around for my sleigh to land on come Christmas Eve. But if there isn't don't worry, Santa will still make it. Yes, Rudolph is a real reindeer, he helps me each Christmas. Ho! Ho! Ho! I don't know if you can stay up when a guest like me arrives. That's something that I think your Mommy or Daddy can answer better than I. After all, I want you to be a good girl and being a good girl means doing as your parents say, right? Well, have a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year from all of us at the North Pole.

Santa

Dear Santa:

My name is Rhonda. I am 5 yrs. old. My mommy is helping me write this letter to you.

Thank you for all the toys you gave me last year. Hope you are well. Say "hello" to Mrs. Claus for me.

Here is my list. I tried to be a good girl.

I know this is a big list, but you can pick the ones you want to give me. I will leave you some goodies on the table.

Thank you.
Love,
