The film is part of a personal love affair Showler has with Jazz in general and the life of frombonist Jack Teagarden in particular.

Prior to 1964, the year of Teagarden's death. Showler collected Elvis Presley records, he told the Herald. Now he has about 300 LPs and 1,000 78s, all of Teagarden. His film will be shown at a San Francisco convention of the International Association of Jazz Record Collectors this summer. Mr. Showler is a member of a small club which collects only recordings made prior to 1935. Of the latter, the

Amend plans for extension

Town planning board has recommended that Georgetown s and Esquesing's official plans be amended to allow Sharmount Investments Ltd to tmalize plans for a 14lot "extension" of the Marywood Meadows sub-

No objections were raised at the necessary public meeting which preceded the board's regular fusiness session. although Richard Last of Hi'sade Crescent, near the proposed subdivision site expressed several concerns

Developer Ben Noy and consulting engineer Bob psham assured Mr. Last that they intended to retain as many of the pine trees in the afea as possible when they construct 14 single family homes on the triangular parcel

Mr. Last was told that the price I the lots, each measuring at least 60 feet in starts has not yet been decided and was further assured that three vacant lots Stirile and John Stuff and remaining in phase one of the estellation will be developed in conjunction with the second

Corn. Roy Booth explained that the subdivision, to be broted minediately north of Georgetown and District Semonal Hospital has already been approved in principle to council
