

CAHA issues suspension

Timmins promises court action

The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association has suspended indefinitely the Timmins Northstars hockey team and management as a result of the club's Hardy Cup quarter-final series forfeiture to the Georgetown Chrysler Raiders.

The Northstars arrived in Georgetown claiming that according to their information the series was to be a best-of-three affair. The CAHA had decreed earlier, on two occasions that series leading to National finals were to a best-of-five. In fact, all other series in Hardy Cup play, in both Eastern and Western Canada were being played on the best-of-five format.

After the first game of the series, which the Raiders won, 8-2, the Timmins management people, who had journeyed south for the series, contacted both OHA and CAHA personnel attempting to have the format changed to a best-of-three.

The Raiders lost revenue because of the forfeiture and appealed to the CAHA, through the OHA, to be reimbursed. OHA President, Hugh McLean vowed that he would not let the matter rest as he felt his league, through the Raiders, was being wronged and took the matter to the CAHA requesting action be taken against Timmins. The matter was discussed by the CAHA at an Executive meeting in April and at their annual meeting and the end result was the issuing of last week's indefinite suspension of the team and management. The Timmins team was also informed that they had the right of appeal, but if CAHA protocol is followed, their case won't be heard until October.

Newly elected Northern Ontario Hockey Association President, Terry Talento, expressed dismay at the CAHA decision and in a telephone interview with The Herald stated that his league would do everything in its power to have the matter looked at as soon as possible.

"Our new executive just got in on the tail end of this thing," he commented, "and yes, we are upset by the decision. If it (the suspension) stands, it could jeopardize the future of the Northland Intermediate Hockey League. I intend to approach the OHA Northland and the CAHA to cut through some red tape and resolve the matter at the earliest possible date."

Talento went on to note that he had advised the Northstars to appeal the decision immediately and stated, that OHA President Hugh McLean, who attended an informal NOHA meeting on the weekend, would lend him support in getting an early hearing of the appeal.

The NOHA President further stated that all correspondence received from the OHA and the league's environs and undoubtedly the league would garner little popular support without a Timmins entry.

Monica Pollock shows fine bunting style in the Georgetown Royalettes game against Glenfield last Tuesday, June 7. Unfortunately the Royalettes were plagued by defensive lapses throughout the game and Glenfield rallied for four runs in the ninth inning to post a 13-10 win.

Royalettes split games in Junior league play

The Georgetown Legion Royalettes played two games last week, in Provincial Women's Junior League play and suffered a disappointing 13-10 loss at home last Tuesday (June 7) to Glenfield but picked up their fourth win of the season, in a thrilling contest, edging St. Catharines, 6-4 in extra innings on Monday night.

Ness and Douglas win Mixed Open

Mary Ness and Jack Douglas combined to win the Mixed Opening Event on Saturday with a great net score of 61.5. Bea Embling and Dave Saliba were a close second with a 62. One of the largest fields ever, 39 couples, lined off on a splendid sunny day. This event is rapidly becoming one of the more popular of the summer because it includes handicaps and every team an equal opportunity to win.

Thornhill edges Hillsburgh to win tournament

Thornhill edged the Hillsburgh Seniors 2-1, in the championship game played Sunday, to walk off with $100 in prize money and the winning laurels in the Hillsburgh Seniors Ladies Softball Tournament played in Hillsburgh over the weekend.

The Georgetown Armstrong Georgettes advanced to the Consolation Championship game, in the double-knockout affair, but were stopped, 4-1 by Milverton.

Fourteen teams took part in the tournament, including three teams from the Halton County Ladies Softball League, Hillsburgh Seniors, Georgetown Georgettes and the Glen Williams ladies team as well as the Georgetown Legion Royalettes.

Hillsburgh Seniors advanced to the championship final by whipping Bramalea, 15-1 as winning pitcher, Rhonda Carney received more than enough support. Marilyn Eagles led all batters by stroking out a double and eight singles, while Mary Wetering contributed a home run and three singles.

Hillsburgh faced the Royalettes on Saturday and triumphed, 7-5, with Marilyn Eagles doing mound duty. Barb Curry was charged with the loss, she was relieved by Laura Wilkes in the third inning.

Joyce Bridge was the top batter for Hillsburgh, lacing a triple and a single while the highlight for the Royalettes was a grand slam home run, hit by Margo Butler in the fourth inning.

On Sunday, the Hillsburgh Seniors faced Ivy and in the only extra-inning game of the tournament, eked out a 3-0 win. Rhonda Carney got the win, while Sue Leighton was charged with the loss.

The Hillsburgh eruption came in the second inning, as Marilyn Eagles and Patty Bayne got on base with singles and advanced on Mary Wetering's fielder's choice. Joyce Bridge and Nancy Rhynold banged out consecutive singles for the winning margin.

The championship game turned into a pitching duel, as Hillsburgh hurler, Rhonda Carney and Thornhill pitcher, Giselle Marchand kept both teams off the scoresheet through five innings.

A single margin, a fielder's choice and a double accounted for Thornhill's winning margin.

In the Royalettes tourney debut, 11-3 win over Kitchener, Laura Wilkes was credited with the win, but her mates bats were booming. Charlene Milton laced a triple and two singles, while Sandy Kerby had a triple and a single and Barb Currie pounded out a triple.

The Glen Williams ladies were similarly ousted in two games, losing their opener, 8-0 to Ivy, as Bev Carmichael took the loss, while Lee Kemshead had the only Glen hit, a double in the fifth inning.

The Georgettes eliminated Glen Williams by toppling them, 4-3 as Ev Meller got the win and Maureen Gerth the save. For the Glen, Maxine Kenshead and Judy Piper, each knocked a double and a single.

The Georgettes opened the tournament with an 8-2 loss to the Caledon Cubs. Moe Gerth and Ev Meller shared the pitching chores for the Georgettes, while Wendy Scott picked up the win. Pat Woods was the top Georgette batter, getting two singles.

Against Glen Williams, Ev and Moe again shared mound service, while Moe Gerth was the top batter, stroking out a double and a single. This win got the Georgettes into the Consolation round.

The Georgettes third game of the tourney was a laugher, as they trounced Kitchener, 15-1. Sue Paul got the win and was the top batter, collecting a double and three singles.

In the consolation championship game, however, it was just not to be for the Georgettes, as Milverton came out on top, by a 4-1 count. Moe Gerth was charged with the loss, while the lone Georgette run was knocked in by Pat Walsh with a double. Heather Sinclair got the win.

Five teams locked in second place battle

Although Norval only saw action once last week, their 6-3 win over the Flyers was enough to boost them over five other teams and into sole possession of first place in the Georgetown Industrial Softball League.

The league's disciplinary committee has assured that no nonsense will be allowed this year aside from Bob Fendley's suspension. Neil Korzack, of Georgetown Chrysler Yankees and Buff Johnson of Fort-A-Mix Mets have both been handed three game suspensions for actions detrimental to the league (rough play and fighting) as a result of an incident in a game June 6.

The league posts a reminder that the last signing date of June 30 is nearing and that all members teams must have their final signed certificates into the league by that date.
