Ric Morrow to speak at Norval group meeting

By DOROTHY McLEAN
Herald correspondent

Ric Morrow, Chairman of the Regional Municipality of Halton - dynamic leader - outstanding individual with a formidable challenge which affects us all, will be the guest speaker at the public meeting of Norval Community Association to be held in the Norval School Community Centre on Thursday evening, June 23rd.

Brief reports of all committee chairmen will be given such as Recreation, Water, Lighting, Beautification, etc., will be given. Bring your ideas for a better community to the meeting and get to know your neighbor better.

Lunch will be served following the meeting by the Norval Neighbor Club.

Norval United Church annual Chicken Barbecue was held this year at Huttonville Public School on Saturday afternoon, June 18th, from 4-8 p.m.

Rain in the morning didn't dampen the spirits of about 1400 people who attended and enjoyed the barbecue. Mrs. Iva Davidson of Brampton was in charge of a small group of musicians who provided music during the afternoon and evening. Tables were set up in the large school auditorium and picnic tables were set up outside. When the skies cleared many chose to eat at the outdoor tables but most were served indoors and some preferred the "take out" service.

All church members and adherents and all groups of the church such as the Couples Club, two units of the U.C.W., the Young Peoples group, and the Sunday School all worked together to make the day a success. The chicken was barbecued at Maple Lodge Farms and brought to the school as needed. A large refrigeration truck from Maple Lodge Farms kept the salads cold until ready to serve.

The committee in charge of the barbecue were, Chairman - Bill Laidlaw, Co-Chairmen - Bob May and Ron Moffat, Secretary, Gwen Laidlaw, Treasurer, Lois Reid. Chairmen of the various committees were: Barbecuing - Jack Crawford, Food other than the chicken - the two U.C.W. groups, tea and coffee - Mrs. Agnes Miller, ticket sales - Anne Wilson and John Dunlop, entertainment - Gord and Rosie Laidlaw, booth - David Dunlop, parking - Ron Moffat, publicity - Gwyn Laidlaw.

The Barbecue Committee appreciated the help and co-operation of all the people who assisted during the day and all the people who attended to make it all worth while.

It was Communion Sunday at Norval United Church on Sunday, June 19th, with Rev. R. Walter Ridley conducting the service and the Teen choir providing the music.

Rachel Elizabeth, baby daughter of Bruce and Cindy Ward, was baptized during the service.

The church was nearly full for the special service which will end services in the church until August.

Following the service all enjoyed "left overs" from the Chicken Barbecue for lunch and talking over events of the

RELEASE STUDY Site F a step closer

By GEORGE EVASHUK

Regional council moved one step closer to creating a garbage dump at Milton's Site F Thursday when it adopted the recommendations of its solicitor and a hydrogeological report favoring the location.

Yet the move of council came amid charges that it was signing a blank cheque, did not have enough information to make a decision and was just bulldozing the motion through.

The hydrogeological report, made available to only councillors at the start of the meeting, says that approximately 600 acres of land north of Britannia Road and west of Tremaine Road are hydrogeologically suitable for landfill and that a leachate collection system will be needed.

The report was prepared for M.M. Dillon Ltd., engineers, by E. Grant Anderson of Gartner-Lee Associates. A further report on Site F including the design plans is expected in July. When the stage three report was released to council, they moved immediately to make it public.

Regional solicitor R.M. Martin, who was absent on vacation, recommended in his report that applications to the town of Milton, the ministry of Environment and the Ontario Municipal Board be made to amend the relevant official plans and zoning by-laws.

As well, the solicitor's report recommended applying for the approval of the acquisition of the required lands, for a certificate from the ministry of Environment to operate a landfill site for six years or less and approval of the financing costs for the site.

Burlington Mayor, Mary Munro led the attack on the two reports. She said she opposed to passing a highly technical report which was only just received and applying for approval to acquire the lands without knowing how many acres are needed. She said it isn't prudent to proceed.

Neither of the reports contains information on the cost of leachate collection, or if possible claims against the operation of the garbage dump by persons living next to the proposed site, she said.

Regional chairman Ric Morrow said further details will be forthcoming as council moves ahead. Possible claims against the dump may be considered

Safety record fete for BP Acton plant

Building Products of Canada Limited, Acton, held a celebration for employees and special guests Monday to commemorate its third year without a disabling injury.

Plant manager, Brian Lockhart said the three-year record is exceptional for the type of machinery the plant's 65 employees operate to produce vinyl siding.

"This milestone has resulted by active efforts of the management safety committee and the employee safety promotion group," he said, "who are proud of this company's record of no disabling injuries."

This self-respect has spread to all plant employees and office staff, he said, and is continued in off-the-job activities, such as safe driving habits.

Safety presentations, demonstrations, and inspections are carried out to ensure full attention is given to safety.

Elmer Grischow, a plant employee won $50 for a safety poster, but he said his wife deserves the credit.

The theme of the poster was "Don't Play Possum with Safety." Mr. Grischow said his wife had a tricky time trying to draw a possum hanging from a tree.

Mark Jackson, a son of plant employee Glen Jackson, won the children's contest with his theme, "Safety is Using Your Head First."

Employees crowded into the office to share a cake and socialize over coffee.

Mayor Tom Hill, Elgin Bonus, field representative of United Rubber Workers, R.E. Waller, president of Building Products of Canada, and Hugh Douglas, president of the Industrial Accident Prevention and Senior Co-ordinator, Loss Control, Imperial Oil Limited, were special guests at the ceremony.

BLOCK PARENTS GARAGE SALE
The Block Parents Association of Georgetown held its first garage sale Saturday as part of a fundraising drive. Thunderstorms Saturday morning forced the goods for sale into the garage from the driveway where the Block Parents would have preferred to display them.

Quebec exchange for pupils

Centennial middle school students made a trip to Quebec City last week to carry out the second half of the exchange program begun here in early May.

Mrs. Davidson and Mrs. Young accompanied 24 students from Grade 8 on the bus trip. They left June 4 and returned June 8.

Although the French students who visited Georgetown in May were able to attend classes with their hosts for two mornings, the Centennial students did not go to school in Quebec. Apparently the teachers at Companion de Cartier school are involved in some sort of work-to-rule situation.

Mrs. Young said, and the teacher running the exchange was afraid there might be an incident if the extra children were put into classrooms.

Centennial students were treated to a buffet supper at the school, followed by a dance. They were also taken for a boat ride on the St. Lawrence River; a carriage tour of Quebec City; shopping at one of the world's largest shopping centres - St. Foix Plaza, and the the Quebec aquarium.

"They had something organized for the kids every night," Mrs. Young said. "We heard they had a pool party for some of them the very first night even though they didn't get away from the dance until 10:30 p.m. or so."

Susan Kelly, one of the students on the exchange, liked the old city the best. "All the side streets were cobbled," she said. "I don't think I've ever seen houses like that before."

Many of the students found that their host families were bilingual she said. She stayed with Helene Tardiff and her family is bilingual.

"I used half English and half French in most of my sentences," Susan said. "They had a little kid about 8 and he spoke better English than I speak French so I was embarrassed to use it."

PLAY DAY

Kindergarten pupils of George Kennedy school participated in various relay races at a playday last week. The children jumped through a hoola-hoop, ducked under a chair, slid along a bench, ran around a chair, and raced back to the starting line. Bean-bag races and wheel-barrow races were all part of the playday.

NURSERY PICNIC

Jennifer McNally isn't sure she's quite comfortable on the monkey bars while brother Billy stands beside her on the bars. The children were playing at the picnic held by the Maple Avenue Nursery in Cedarvale.
