PATROLLER HONORED

Karen Woolham, a patroller on school buses, was presented with a bicycle from Constable Raj Swaminathan at the last assembly for the year held in Howard Wigglesworth school. Karen was captain of six patrollers of the school and both she and Jimmy Campbell received safety awards. The other patrollers, Heike Link, Jackie Carlo, Carol Squier, and Tim Harlow, names were also submitted to the Halton Regional Safety Council and names were drawn for the bicycle. The other winner for the bike in Halton was a boy chosen from Milton.

Acton doctors leave for U.S.

Dr. Craig Hutchinson of Acton is moving to the United States too because he says he can no longer work with government interfering with his profession. "It's no longer a patient doctor relationship, there's always a third party," he said. Dr. Hutchinson said the people of Ontario will suffer because quite a number of established doctors are moving their practices out of the country. His colleague Dr. R.J. Wilson plans to leave early in July for Jay County, Indiana, the same county Dr. Hutchinson is moving to. Dr. Hutchinson plans to leave in late August or early September. He also knows of three doctors in Georgetown and four in Guelph contemplating a move to the United States. Doctors have no problem getting visas, he said, and expects his visa sometime in July.

Another established doctor, Tom Coburn, left for Iowa in April he said, and his patients will have problems replacing him. Government interference with the Ontario Health Insurance Plan (OHIP) and patient fees being lower than financially possible, are the major reasons he opted to move to the States. Increased overhead costs have forced Dr. Hutchinson to take on more patients and he feels he is unable to give them the attention they require. He is also filling out weekly government directives and laboratory forms. The U.S. is the same medically, he said, but not bureaucratically. Hearings held by the Ontario College of Physicians and Surgeons further hinders the medical profession with unnecessary restricting, he believes.
