

Rams at the end?

The Acton Rams sped up to victory over the Rexdale Warriors Thursday night (July 14) capture a 14-10 win.

Starting slow the Rams were trailing the Warriors 4-3 at the end of the first period, but coming back strong, the Rams pushed themselves to a 7-5 lead at the end of the second period. Penalties were few in the third period, as the Rams overpowered the Warriors seven goals to five.

Top scorer for the Rams was Ron Turkoz with four goals and one assist. Number 14, George Artem kept himself busy with three goals and five assists. Equally busy were Kevin Marcoux and Steve Wilson with two goals and five assists apiece.

The Rams travelled to Huntsville over the weekend only to get crushed 20-10. Although the Rams were leading 3-0 during the first period, the roof fell in on them after that, and it was game over.

Monday night the Rams challenged Bolton but again they fell giving the game up 9-6.

At the end of the first period the Rams were leading, but that changed in the second as Bolton edged the Rams 5-4 in the closing minutes.

Falling down in the third, Bolton gathered four goals, compared to one for the Rams.

During the last few minutes tempers flew and so did the penalties. Two Bolton players were handed five minute plus some misconducts. The Rams got their share too, with two five minute misconducts and one game misconduct.

Goals scorers for the Rams were Kevin Marcoux with two goals and one assist, George Artem nabbed one goal and three assists, while Steve Wilson made two goals.

Although it looks like the Rams are out for the play-offs, there is still one more regular season game to be played. That's Thursday night at Acton Arena against Orangeville.

AMBULANCE GOLF TOURNAMENT HELD

The Georgetown Volunteer Ambulance Service held its first annual golf tournament on the weekend and the weather and golfers were hot. Held at the Halton Country Inn Golf and Country Club, the men teed off bright and early, but not early enough to beat the heat. Eighteen golfers travelled the course with Tom Lush coming out on top with a 79. Second was George Galway with an 81 and close behind for third was Glen Chapman, shooting 86. Not to be forgotten was Len Hunzinger, who was the 'most honest golfer'. Placing fourth was John Bonia, fifth, Richard Poot and in sixth spot, Eric Stone. Beating the heat on the course, the men ventured back to the ambulance service hall for lunch and some cool refreshments. Trophies and prizes were awarded ranging from shirts and cases of beer to even a new gallon of paint for the house. A great time was had by all and sure enough next year's tournee is promised to be bigger and better.

Bare guardrail a nasty object

Humidity, dust and rain was the mixture to be had at Mosport Park over the weekend as three young Georgetown drivers made their way among the 1/4 mile track.

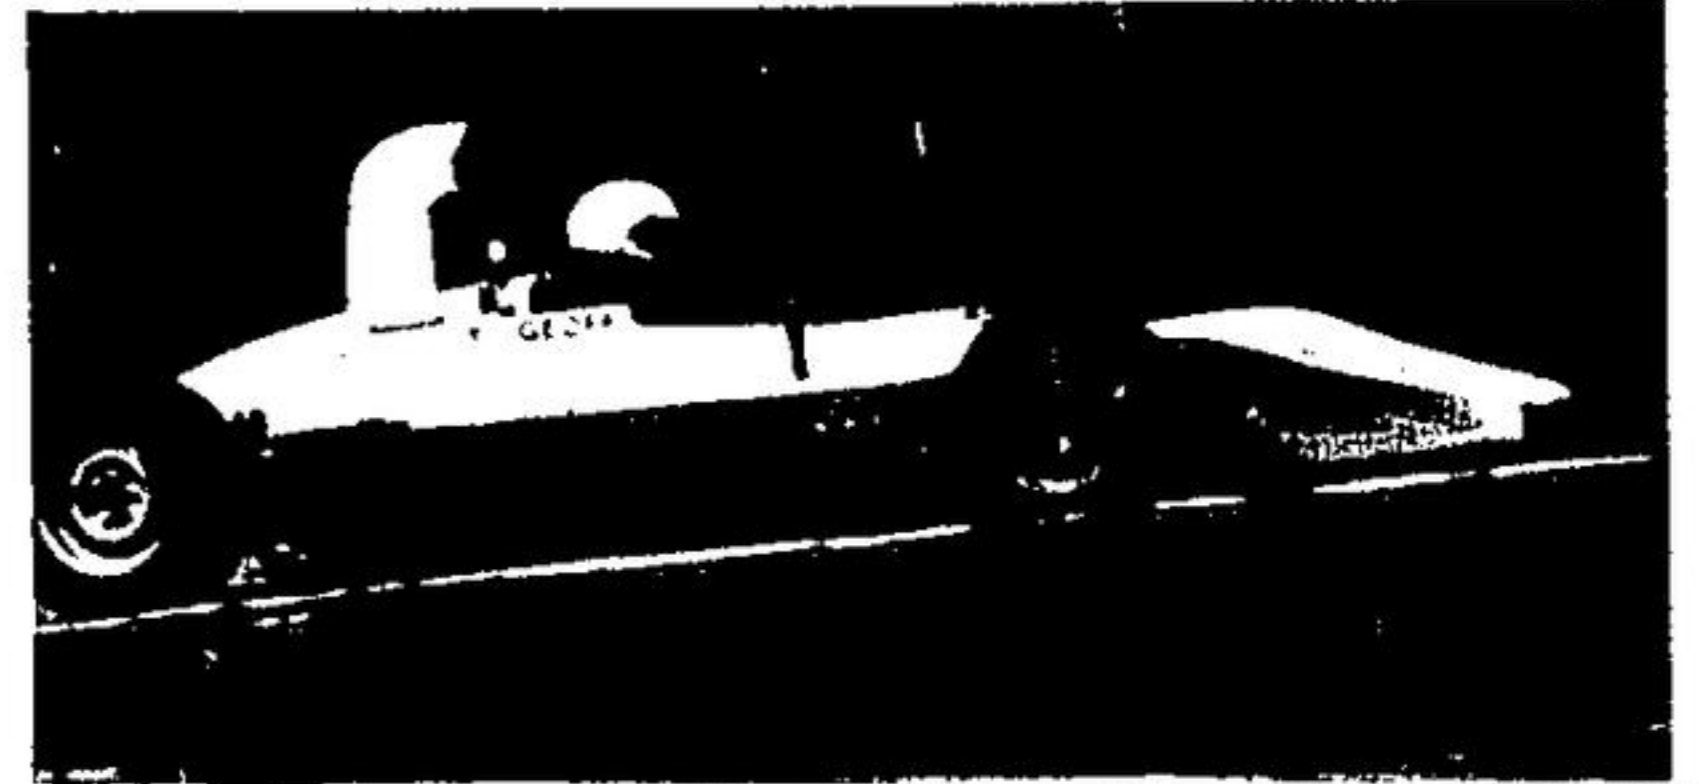

Lee Urset ran in the novice division of Formula Ford and came out number one. Running his last of three races in the novice class he will soon apply for his national license.

Rupert Bragg-Smith and Geoff Walker both competed in the Formula Ford division for national drivers, landing seventh and thirteenth after a total twenty laps.

Bragg-Smith had a tough time of the race and did remarkably well considering the circumstances. He had no clutch. Both Urset and Bragg-Smith use the same car, which blew the clutch during Bragg-Smith's heat race. Because he did not finish the heat, he was assigned twenty-fourth position on the starting grid in the finals. Placing second, third and fourth in other races this season, Bragg-Smith feels alright about the race, especially since the car is in its sixth season.

Geoff Walker placed thirteenth in the same race, but wasn't too pleased. Having engine problems in the fifth and tenth corners and the too-near threat of rain caused him to hold back. As many professional drivers have mentioned, Walker too, noticed the closeness of the guardrails to the track. Both the guardrails and the concrete walls have no hay to cushion the impact, should an accident occur.

Something special in Formula Ford racing is coming up in a few weeks as all three drivers will journey to Shannonville for a one-hour endurance race.

Geoff Walker seen here driving his 1,600 Cortina-powered Formula Ford accelerates as his car comes off corner (two up the straight before he must gear down to enter corner three. Walker imported the car from England before assembling it himself.

This is a special Formula Ford because races are normally set by laps not time. Powered by 1,600 Cortina engines, Urset, Bragg-Smith and Walker are going to find the race to quite a test, both for car and driver.

Catching sassy bass

By BOB OLLIVIER

MECCA! St. Ola is mecca to bass fishermen, and in case you don't know where St. Ola is situated, follow the BASS HIGHWAY. Yes, I believe Highway 7 should be called Bass Highway, due to the many excellent spots for bass fishing. And by taking Highway 62 north you increase your bass catching chances tremendously.

St. Ola is one of the most important villages in the area being located on LIMERICK LAKE. This has got to be the number one largemouth bass lake in Ontario, and smallmouth are also present in good numbers.

We had made plans to fish Limerick Lake this year, but I guess those plans have fallen through, so I will plan to fish it next year. But, if you can make it over there I know that it may well be the best bass fishing trip you have or will ever make. The map that accompanies this column is of Limerick Lake and some of the "hot spots" are noted. Finer details can be had by obtaining Topographical Map 31C-13 Coe Hill and by buying yourself one of those fine "fishing maps" put out by the ministry of natural resources at the price of $1 plus sales tax. Just write to the ministry at Parliament Buildings, Toronto, Ontario M7A 1W3 and ask for fishing map for Limerick Lake, Region Algonquin, District Bancroft.

Almost any bay where reeds, rocks or stumps are present will produce "lunker" bass. A fat chub minnow takes about 80 per cent of the fish and regardless of what type lure you use, I would suggest that it has weedless hooks, even when fishing minnows, due to the many weeds and stumps, and any good bass man knows this is where old "bucketmouth" hides himself.

And then there is "the Rockpile". This is a pile of huge rocks reaching up to about twelve feet from the surface and the surrounding depth is 90 feet giving some of the best STRUCTURE to be found anywhere.

The rockpile is about 150 feet off shore from a small cabin just west of the point of the bay where Beaver Creek flows into St. Ola Lake.

The Smallmouth Bass there want to have you thinking they are Largemouth they are so fat and sassy. You say you want to give Limerick a try? Good, let me know and I will take a few days off the real estate business and go with you.

Book Review. For those of you who still like to fish Trout, even in the summer heat and low water conditions, take time out to read FLY FISH THE TROUT LAKES by Jack Shaw. This book, published by Mitchell Press has an excellent chapter called Summer Doldrums that should help you in your quest for the summer trout. In fact the whole book should increase the trouterman's chances of connecting with his quarry.

Fly Fish the Trout Lakes is well illustrated with sketches and the section on the fly patterns in color is truly great. For trout fishing anytime take a look at the book. I know it will up your odds against the much sought after Trout.

I have been getting several calls about the Moose season this fall, and went to Toronto last week and picked up some information on this. The hunting regulations will be released sometime in the next two or three weeks, but I do have the regions and seasons on Moose. Give me a call and I will try to fill you in. 877-9290 or at the office 877-5331 and ask for me.

'Til next week, enjoy yourself but be careful in ONTARIO OUTDOORS.

Glen Ladies pitcher Cindy Stafford made a good effort Monday night against the Hillsburgh Seniors, but was unsuccessful against their strong team at bat.

Glen turns sloppy after win.

The Glen Ladies Senior softball team came out on top Thursday night (July 14) beating Hornby 15-6. Pitcher Cindy Stafford played a good game, striking out nine Hornby batters. The team was also helped with some excellent batting. Betty McFarlane hit three triples, a double and a walk. Bev Vickery, added four good hits along with the rest of the team who all played well.

But the tables were turned on the Ladies on Monday night as they were slaughtered 12-1 by the Hillsburgh Seniors.

Hillsburgh simply outplayed the Ladies, who are in second last position compared to Hillsburgh who sits on top.

The only run the Ladies managed to get was run by Beth Carmichael after she hit a single. Bev Vickery then came to bat hitting a single, but making it to second base on a Hillsburgh error. Cindy Stafford then put a single, bringing Beth in for the point.

The Ladies play five more games in regular season.

Activities everywhere

More than 4,000 people filled the Hornby ball park for the 30th annual Garden Party for an exhibition baseball game between members of the various community teams and the CFGM radio announcers.

Among the other festivities visitors took in an amateur talent show and all the refreshments they could eat.

Held annually to raise funds for the various community teams, the garden party proceeds are used to supply uniforms and equipment for 188 baseball players 18 years of age and younger. In addition the community holds a two-day invitational tournament in August to raise funds for the sports teams.

A ladies' and a men's team are both sponsored by outside interests adding another 33 members of the community to the sports rolls.
