JOYCE BEATON

A special person

My father is a very special man. Where have you heard that line before? Well, he is. At my age I still call him daddy.

He retired this year from a very successful 20 years as a salesman of industrial adhesives. It's not the job he had while I was growing up. I knew my father as a worker in the basement of a paper box company. He'd take me to work with him the odd time and it was there I developed my love of the smell of ink and paper.

One good suit

He owned one good suit and that was for special occasions. The highlight of my day as a child was to meet him at the bus stop and carry his lunch pail home for him. His life changed 20 years ago. A change in employment brought a new way of life and a new growth for him.

He was just the age I am now. He was 44, the age when most men and women feel scared to change their way of life and hold fast to their security.

No smooth talker

With no university degree and with only the school of hard knocks behind him, he decided to change his life. There were six children and still four of them living at home.

Convinced sales was his forte, he embarked on several unfortunate experiences before landing the right job. He's not a smooth talker and he doesn't look like a Madison Avenue man. But he has plenty of expertise and knowledge and faith in his own product.

In an age when so many people won't give an inch more than is required of them, my father is of the generation that does. That makes the difference.

They trust him

It's not beneath his dignity to take off his suit jacket, roll up his sleeves and test his product through a machine for a client. He's honest to the point of stubbornness. Clients learn to trust and respect his word.

He's willing to spend enough time on an account to convince a customer his product is best. His perseverance when other men would long since have given up has won him many a sale.

They'll miss him

He has a good sense of humor and genuinely likes people. He's still, at age 65, excited with his own ability. He's left the company with a positive feeling about himself. He will be leaving behind many people who genuinely miss seeing him regularly—and that's a pretty nice way to go.

By MRS. JOHN BELLBODDY
Herald correspondent

Now it's September which means summer is over and holidays are done for another year. Whether you went down east, up north or out west we hope everyone had a wonderful holiday. School has started, the Ex is over but the fairs will keep this month busy, then soon will come winter.

We are all rejoicing that Mrs. Frank Ruddell has made such a marvellous recovery after her long stay in the hospital, with extreme care we hope she will continue to keep on the road to perfect health.

Congratulations to all who have wedding anniversaries in September with special best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ruddell on their 55th on Sept. 28.

On Friday evening, Aug. 26, Mrs. William Tuit of Regan Cres., Georgetown, was hostess at a miscellaneous shower for her sister Jamie Critchell. Thirty-five ladies enjoyed the lovely evening. Those invited from our village were Mrs. Frank Ruddell, Mrs. Bob Ruddell, her daughters Deena and Delores, Mrs. Lloyd Fisher, her daughter Mrs. Doreen McClaine, Verna Fisher and grand daughter Sherrie Lynne, Mrs. George Wilson, Mrs. John Ruddell and Mrs. John Bellbuddy. The Critchell family lived her a few years ago and ran the store and garage. Jamie is being married in November and we wish her a long and happy married life. On Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Wilson were guests at her nephew's wedding in Norfolk Presbyterian Church in Guelph.

During the summer Mrs. Thomas Blackbeth flew to Edmonton to visit her daughter and son-in-law Mrs. Dennis Zappa, also for the birth of her second grandson, a little brother for Christopher.

Save electricity, save natural resources.

About a third of Ontario's electricity is generated by burning fossil fuels... coal, oil, natural gas. The price of all these natural resources is increasing rapidly. The price of coal, for example, has tripled over the last five years. Higher fuel costs inevitably show up in the price you pay for electricity.

Save electricity, and you'll save money. You'll also be helping to conserve dwindling natural resources for other important uses... transportation, agriculture, chemicals.

GRACIOUS BRICK BUNGALOW

This three bedroom full basement bungalow is well-suited to the large frontage lot and the growing family.

The pleasant low profile exterior, finished in brick and stone veneer is accented by a charming bow window and spacious recessed front entry.

The entrance hall leads to the large ell-shaped living and dining room. The living room features a raised brick hearth fireplace which, together with the square paneled bow window, creates a focal point for relaxed family living.

The large kitchen and dining nook, combination enables the family to separate formal dining and casual family meals. It may be closed off from the dining area and hall with sliding doors.

The kitchen itself features large working surfaces and generous cupboard and storage space. A third door leads from the kitchen to the rear entry and downstairs bathroom.

All three bedrooms are large, with good-sized closets accented by louvered bi-fold doors. The master bedroom features a two piece ensuite bathroom with a window to the rear yard. A special feature allows access to the ensuite from the rear entry, minimizing traffic through the kitchen to the main bathroom.

The main bathroom is readily accessible to all bedrooms and features a tiled-in tub and contained linen closet separate from the two main linen closets in the hall.

This modern bungalow affords the growing family abundant spare for gracious living and good potential for future development.

Plans for design No. 65-1478 may be obtained at a cost of $60.00 for the first set and $9.00 for each additional set, plus $3.50 for postage and handling. Ontario residents include 7 percent sales tax.

Send for the current edition of Select Home Designs Series No. 34 featuring imaginative decorating and home improvement ideas plus more than 300 quality home plans of every type. Available for $2.25 ($1.75 plus 50 cents postage and handling.) To order these items please send cheque or money order to the New Home of the Week. Address to:
