

NDP EXECUTIVE

About 20 local New Democratic Party members elected a six-member executive, Wednesday at the founding meeting of the association for the recently created Brampton-Georgetown federal riding. From left to right are vice-president Thor Jakobson, president Norm Brooks, publicity chairman Susan Gow, and financial secretary Morley Mills. Other executive members elected were Joe Ferreiro, co-ordinator, and Bill Brackman, secretary. Brooks said the executive will probably meet in two weeks to draw up plans to choose a candidate for the next national election, expected to be announced next spring.

ACTON DRAMA CLUB REHEARSES

The Acton Drama club is rehearsing a production of Our Gal Sal by Peggy Fernway. Even though they lack a director and producer for the play, the nine-member cast anticipate they'll be ready for the opening

Queen's Park report

By JULIAN REED
Liberal M.P.P.
(Halton-Burlington)

The Canadian Conference of Legislative Ombudsmen was held at the Sheraton Centre in Toronto from September 12 to 16th. This came as the result of Arthur Maloney's initiative which proved to be quite successful.

The Conference was chaired by the former Canadian Finance Minister - John Turner - the theme of which was "The Ombudsman and Access to Information". It was his belief that the ultimate adjudicative authority in this connection should rest with the courts, that the Ombudsman's function was quite distinct, although there is considerable overlap. Gerald Baldwin, M.P., who is a long-time proponent of freedom of information expressed the view that secrecy led to incompetence, inefficiency and scandal. He favoured the idea of the Ombudsman intervening to secure documents which had been denied.

Donald MacDonald, M.P.P., maintained that the parliamentary system cannot be truly democratic unless there is freedom of information. It is his belief that freedom of information will lead to genuinely responsible government and reduce the alienation of people from government. Margaret Campbell, M.P.P., dealt directly with freedom of information available to the public through the Legislature, one of her concerns being the right of the individual to see his or her own file. She also dealt in specific terms with the right of the citizens to know what the government is doing, citing experience in the provincial Legislature.

For example, she mentioned an 11-page document reporting on efforts to obtain information from the government, particularly the Ministry of Health, on a private enterprise which receives some seven million dollars annually from the Province. Oral questions and Order Paper questions failed to obtain the information, and we resurrected a little known procedure called "A Notice of Motion for Production of Papers". In addition to letters to the Minister. All this, however, was to no avail.

Then there is the matter of the Toronto Island Airport and its possible use for Shari Takeoff and Landing (STOL) airplanes. In April 1974, we learned of the existence of a Committee meeting behind closed doors to review "technical information" on this matter. (Incidentally, not all the members serving on this Committee had technical expertise). Originally, we sought membership of the Committee. Subsequently observer status was requested. This was also denied, although it was resolved that the minutes of meetings be made available.

The minutes we eventually received were considerably less than complete. The matter was referred to the Attorney General on the basis of an "investigation into the falsification of public documents, but he ruled the Chairman of the Committee had prepared a summary of proceedings which contained "All the essential and basic points that were discussed."

The Minister stated: "In creating this summary there was no attempt to distort the facts or mislead people as to the Committee's consideration."
