

HONDA JOINS THE MAJOR LEAGUES.

If you'd like to take your hat off to Honda, the participating Honda dealers would like to give you one free, when you take a test drive. (But hurry, supplies are limited.)

to Monzas to Volvos to Rabbits.

But it's not terribly surprising when you consider how they've played the game.

They hit a home run with the front wheel drive. Made a double play (front and back) with the interior size. Tripled to left with the independent suspension. And stole home with their gas mileage.

With statistics like that, it's a wonder someone hasn't named a chocolate bar after Honda.

And that's only the series opener.

This year there's a new 5-speed Civic Hatchback. Refined front styling. More horsepower. A new three speed heater. And a list of other features that your Honda dealer will be happy to show you.

Features that just might make them the major league champ.

Features that'll help you sell yourself, when you come in and take a test drive at your Honda dealer.
