An official opening

The official opening of the new Georgetown firehall last Sunday afternoon began with an appearance by the Georgetown Girl's Pipe Band and concluded with a water ball fight, with plenty going on in between.

The fire department went all out to ensure a memorable opening. Children were entertained by Herbie the Clown while they ate ice cream provided by Dairy Queen. Parents enjoyed free coffee and doughnuts.

The official opening ceremony was attended by Mayor Tom Hill, Assistant Fire Marshal Sid Oxenham from Ontario fire marshal's office, Chief Mick Holmes and former fire chief Bill Hyde. The Master of Ceremonies was District Chief Bill Cunningham.

"I know we have the best volunteer fire brigade in Ontario, and I'm proud to be associated with it," Mayor Hill said. He performed a hose-cutting ceremony with the assistance of Chief Holmes, cutting the hose and splitting the wood on which the hose was resting, as well.

Rev. Peter Barrow gave the invocation, calling also for a minute of silence to remember those who once served on the fire department "before being called to greater service."

Former chief Bill Hyde unveiled a plaque to the memory of Mrs. Pearl Oliver, who was the first dispatcher for the Georgetown fire department. She took over her duties in 1953, and was absent a total of three weeks in 19 years. Hanging over the altar is the old town bell, which hung in the tower of the old townhall for many years before the building was torn down.

The fire department rescue unit performed a mock rescue after the official ceremony was over. One of the engines and the rescue unit raced around the corner of the firehall, as if answering a real rescue call. Using a saw called Herbie the Clown entertained the children at the opening of the fire hall by making balloon animals. The children were enthralled, and many adults gave the activity more than a passing glance.

Firefighter Bruce Lewis operates the K-12, which is used to cut into cars and free trapped victims. The door to this car was stubborn, and a sustained effort was required to force it open.
