Junior Rebels go to semis in tournament at Acton

The Georgetown district high school junior boys' basketball team made it to the semi-finals in a tournament held in Acton last Saturday. They lost in the semis 29-27 to Ancaster. They had made it to the semis by earlier defeating Mimico 45-20.

The ball seemed to hang on the rim for the longest time during the Georgetown Midget Rebels game against Bishop MacDonell. It finally did drop in for the Rebels as they went on to trounce the visitors 59-10. Rebels (in white) looking on are Mark Shearer, right, who led the team in scoring and Graham Hill (50), who led them in rebounds.

The top scorer in the Mimico was John Karolidis with 10. Steve Keslick scored eight. Vernon Neale seven and Rick Fisher chipped in with six. Karolidis scored more than half of his team's points in the semi-final. He had a season high of 16 and Scott Turner who led the team in scoring in the two previous exhibition games, was good for six. The tournament was eventually won by the Broncos from Bramalea.

The midget team won big last week as they demolished Bishop MacDonell here 59-10. The top gun in that game was Mark Shearer who scored 14 points. Lance Doucette added 12 more and Brian Davis chipped in with eight. All nine Rebels dressed for the game scored at least one point apiece.

Graham Hill led all rebounders as he pulled down seven. Davis also had a good day on the boards as he came down with six rebounds.

Bishop MacDonell however, returned the favor as their senior team thoroughly dominated Georgetown in the second half of the double header. The final score was 54-33.

Doug Lamb was the top Rebel scorer with nine points. Norm Iukki also had a good day as he scored eight. Iukki was also the team's top rebounder.

Tie and close loss for senior girls

Georgetown's Senior Girls, sponsored by the Industrial Hockey League, battled the Orangeville Sweethearts in back to back games last weekend, emerging with a tie and a close loss. Last year's champs, the Sweethearts also gained respect for the Georgetown team who refused to back off or be pushed around.

In Saturday's game at home, the Seniors had a goal called back and had to settle for a 0-0 tie in a physical game. In a solid team effort, every goal gave 100 per cent and Joan Gilmer tending the nets made some excellent stops to record the shutout.

A return game to Orangeville on Sunday saw the Seniors come up flat in the first period and quickly fall behind a 3-0 score. Pulling up their socks in the second frame, Clare Carter from Elaine Taylor connected for the first Georgetown goal. The girls stayed on the offence and hit for their second goal early in the third period, Taylor from Carter. Lady Luck favored the Sweethearts as the seniors kept up the offensive pressure, doing everything but put the puck in the net, hitting goalposts, missing open nets and rolling pucks wide of the corners.

All in all it was a good
