

Police beat

The theft of a flag pole and a Canadian flag from the Canadian Fried Chicken restaurant on Feb. 25 was one of the stranger investigations conducted by Halton Regional police in Halton Hills last week.

An employee of Canadian Fried Chicken reported the theft, which occurred sometime Saturday night or early Sunday morning.

Thieves stole the wheel covers from a 1978 Oldsmobile Cutlass parked on the lot at Andrew Murray Motors. An employee discovered the theft while moving cars around on the lot.

Two Georgetown men were charged with theft under $200 after they were observed opening a mail box and removing a parcel. Police report that the men took the parcel behind a building, inspected the contents and abandoned it.

Thieves stole a CB radio and antenna from a car parked in front of a house at the Georgetown Golf and Country Club some time last Tuesday evening.

Thieves were at work at the Georgetown Market last Wednesday evening. A man reported that someone took the tail light lenses from his Volkswagen while it was parked in the plaza parking lot.

The caretaker at the Church Hill Community Church reported that vandals broke a window in the church. Nothing seemed to be missing or damaged.

Canada Trust reported that an unknown person attempted to withdraw money from someone else's bank account last Friday. Police have a description of the suspect and the vehicle he was driving.

A residence on Fagan Drive in Georgetown was broken into late last week, but nothing appeared to have been taken. Entry was gained by breaking a window and the screen.

A Georgetown man was arrested following a disturbance outside a local hotel Saturday evening. A taxi was dropping off a fare at the hotel, and the man, who wished to get in the cab, became upset when the fare took a long time getting out of the cab. A fight broke out between the two men.

BILL AND GEORGETTE MILLIERE

Installed first antenna, set, Milliere TV marks 25 years

The man who installed the first television set and aerial in Georgetown celebrates 25 years in his own business his high school years. He took a radio and television electronics course at the Radio College of Canada in Toronto, then spent three years at Number One Air Observer school in Malton as an aircraft radio technician where he installed and serviced ground station transmitting and direction finding equipment. When the school closed Mr. Milliere spent a year at the Radio Valve Company, in the research laboratory.

Bill Milliere of Milliere T.V. Sales and Service opened his own business March 1, 1953, in a room off the building which is now Hunter's Inn on Mountainview Road. At that time most of his business was servicing television sets, he says. As business grew he moved several times until on July 1, 1959, he opened his new shop which he had built at 14 Wesleyan St. His home is in the same building.

When he returned to Georgetown Mr. Milliere started a radio service shop for Harold McClure in his home furnishing store. Then as television moved into Canada he decided to change directions and go into his own business. Over the years he has attended two dozen seminars on television and stereo equipment.

Bill was born in Beaufort, Ontario as a child and then returned to Georgetown with his parents during his high school years.

President Mrs. Booth read Easter needs and the Collect was repeated in unison.

The annual meeting in Limehouse Memorial Hall on April 6 will follow a pot luck dinner. Dr. Philbrook MP will obtain a flag for us. Mrs. Glen Campbell displayed W.I. plates, useful as gifts and mentioned decisions to be made at the upcoming District Directors' meeting.

A delegate was named to attend a tea planning meeting at the Manor on March 29, and two were appointed to help plan a birthday party there on April 12.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick expanded the motto, "You can't hitch-hike to success." She said that plodding, not hitch-hiking leads to success.

District president Mrs. Glen Campbell spoke on Public Relations, saying that good human relations produce good public relations. She advised using WI crests and stationery, etc. to advertise the organization, which has eight and a half million members spread through five continents.

Mrs. Spitzer served a very lovely lunch afterwards. Mrs. Walter Linham was hostess for a baby shower for Mrs. Joe Brooks and her little daughter recently. Ten close family members and Mr. and Mrs. T.N. Anderson went to Barrie to celebrate Mr. and Mrs. M.A. Webster's fifteenth wedding anniversary and his eightieth birthday.

Council defers approval on Alcott Arena plaza

Halton Hills council met again last night (Tuesday) after failing Monday to approve construction of a $2 million shopping centre adjacent to Gordon Alcott Memorial Arena.

Some councillors felt they did not have enough information about two sidewalk and curb town staff have recommended that the developer, Gerry Sprackman, build.

Mr. Sprackman's lawyer, Ed Sunshine, said dealings had been going on with town staff for three months and everything was settled but for a road between the proposed plaza and the arena, sidewalks and pedestrian control at the traffic lights on Guelph Street and a drainage agreement.

Mr. Sunshine said the developer will build a road costing about $65,000 and maintain it for two years. Agreement had been reached with the Canadian National Railway to use a drainage ditch on the railway's property. Mr. Sunshine said, but because the agreement was not in perpetuity the developer was willing to put on the site control agreement the condition that he would spend $100,000 to install a pumping station.

Mr. Sunshine said town staff had recommended that the developer buy 20 foot easements across five properties between the site and Sinclair Avenue. He indicated that a better route to follow would be for the town to expropriate the easements.

But it was over the issue of sidewalks and curbs that council failed to pass the legislation.

Apparently, recreation director Glen Gray has asked that about 200 short posts around an island in front of the arena be replaced with curbs, a proposal the developer disagreed with as did Mayor Tom Hill.

"We shouldn't be asking someone else to develop our lands," the mayor said. "We can't go for this."

Town engineer Robert Austin had requested a sidewalk within the proposed development and another along Guelph Street in accordance with suggestions by the corner and ministry of the attorney-general.

Both absent staff members came under criticism for making the requests and some councillors said it was the first they had heard of sidewalks and curbs in the development.

Mr. Sunshine said the two request would cost $15,000 plus $3,000 for pedestrian control at the traffic light.

During discussion on whether to pass the legislation, conflicting remarks were made about what staff had told one or the other councillor, while some councillors argued that they wouldn't make a decision on the sidewalks without questioning the town engineer first. Council then became embroiled in procedural matters until Mayor Hill finally called another council meeting to deal with the matter Tuesday.

The plaza is to be serviced by a road common to it and the Gordon Alcott Arena. It will have about 62,500 square feet with about 12 to 15 stores including a Miracle Food Mart, a Toronto-Dominion Bank and a Goodyear Tire store. Negotiations are underway with a restaurant, but Mr. Sprackman declined to name it.

He estimated that the development would provide about $70,000 in taxes to the town.

Turnout small to discuss school twinning

By MAGGIE HANNAH Herald staff writer

While parents at both rural schools suggested as twinning partners for urban schools in North Halton are desperately opposing the proposal, parents at the urban schools have shown an almost total lack of interest in the suggestion.

Meetings held Wednesday evening at Joseph Gibbons school in Georgetown and Robert Little school in Acton drew only two interested parents to bear the reasoning behind the suggestion that Gibbons and Limehouse schools be twinned while Speyside and Little schools will be combined under the guidance of one principal.

Gibbons' principal Tom Gibson says he had inquiries of what twinning would involve after he sent home a letter to parents indicating that twinning is being considered for the school and a meeting would be held at which a board representative would be present to answer questions.

Parents seemed content with the news that all it would mean would be the loss of a principal in Limehouse and a heavier work load for the Gibbons principal, he says.

The $10,000 TREASURE HUNT

There's real treasure to be had and it's all at Stone Road Mall. We're inviting you to come on a TREASURE HUNT.

You could win a specially selected item from each store in the mall.

Yes, you could share in $10,000 worth of treasures, one of 100 lucky winners.

Look for the special treasure hunt poster in each store and here's HOW IT WORKS!

Throughout the Mall, there will be thousands of Treasure Hunt ballots.

Listed on each ballot will be the name of every store in the Mall, with a space beside each name. In that space, goes the name of the "treasure" - a previously selected item of merchandise from that particular store. You'll have to search for the item (it will be identified by the special Treasure Hunt poster) and write it down on your ballot. Once you've browsed through all the stores and completed your Treasure Hunt ballot, fill in your name and address and drop it in the giant Treasure Hunt chest in the centre of the Mall.

What could be easier? And what could be more exciting than winning a treasure trove of merchandise! As you can see, we've planned a lot of fun for you at Stone Road Mall.

Limehouse news

By MRS. A.W. BENTON
Mrs. Paul Spitzer was hostess for the W.I. meeting on Thursday when twelve ladies attended.

President Mrs. Booth read Easter needs and the Collect was repeated in unison.

A delegate was named to attend a tea planning meeting at the Manor on March 29, and two were appointed to help plan a birthday party there on April 12.

A demonstration and bake sale was planned for mid-April in the Hall.

The annual meeting in Limehouse Memorial Hall on April 6 will follow a pot luck dinner. Dr. Philbrook MP will obtain a flag for us. Mrs. Glen Campbell displayed W.I. plates, useful as gifts and mentioned decisions to be made at the upcoming District Directors' meeting.

District president Mrs. Glen Campbell spoke on Public Relations, saying that good human relations produce good public relations. She advised using WI crests and stationery, etc. to advertise the organization, which has eight and a half million members spread through five continents.

She ended with two poems "Tomorrow" and "The Beauty of a Smile."

Mrs. Anderson thanked her and presented a gift.

Hill call, "Should making a will be compulsory" brought considerable discussion and although deemed very advisable, would be difficult to enforce.

Mrs. Spitzer served a very lovely lunch afterwards.

Mrs. Walter Linham was hostess for a baby shower for Mrs. Joe Brooks and her little daughter recently. Ten close family members and Mr. and Mrs. T.N. Anderson went to Barrie to celebrate Mr. and Mrs. M.A. Webster's fifteenth wedding anniversary and his eightieth birthday.

Mrs. Anderson and her parents also visited her sister and their grandniece in Victoria hospital in London.
