

HELPING THE CAMPAIGN

Clara Chapman, a resident of Kincourt for seven years, believes it is never too late to do something for the community. Mrs. Chapman, who has lived in Georgetown for 56 years, collected donations for the Red Cross Society from other Kincourt residents. Although she has done volunteer work before for her church, it was only in the background, she said. She presented the money she collected to Marg Pope, president of the Red Cross Society in Georgetown on Friday. Mrs. Chapman, who is over 80 years, says, "Hard work doesn't kill you." Above, she is with her pet budgie, Babbi.

ANN LANDERS

A Sunday message

Dear Ann: A poem that appeared in our church bulletin recently is a perfect example of truth - spoken in jest. I'll bet if you print it, thousands of people will see themselves and blush a little. It might even get them back in the pews Sunday morning. Thanks. - St. Louis Reader.

A SUNDAY MESSAGE

To make it possible for everyone to attend church, we are going to make some special arrangements. A cot will be placed in the sanctuary for those who say, "Sunday is my only day to sleep." Eyedrops will be available for those with tired eyes from watching television too late on Saturday night. We will have steel helmets for those who say, "The roof would cave in if I showed up in church." Blankets will be furnished for people who think the church is too cold and fans for those who think the church is too hot. We will have hearing aids for persons who say the priest speaks too softly, and cotton for those who think he speaks too loudly. Scorecards will be placed in the pew racks for those who enjoy listing the hypocrites present. One hundred TV dinners will be on hand for those who can't go to church and cook dinner, too. A putting green is being constructed near the altar for those who say, "Sunday is my golfing day." Finally, the sanctuary will be decorated with Christmas poinsettias and Easter lilies for those who never see the church without them.

Dear St. Louis Reader: I wish you had identified the church bulletin. When I print material other than my own I like to credit the source.

Dear Ann: I'm going with a man who keeps me in a constant state of anxiety. I never know for sure whether he is going to show up for a date. He has the dandiest collection of alibis in the world - airtight and waterproof. He can always produce a witness.

This man has an excellent job, yet I have had to help him out with car payments and other small "emergencies." He has postponed our wedding twice. The last time was two weeks ago when he said he fell down and broke his arm. The cast was off in six days which leads me to believe his arm wasn't broken at all. I think I ought to have a word with him. What should I say? - Fed Up To Here

Dear Fred: The word you are looking for is "Goodbye."

Dear Ann: I'm a girl 15 who needs some personal help. I've always had a nice complexion until a few weeks ago. I'm going with a guy who likes me a lot (it's mutual) but I've having a hard time keeping him in line.

Last night he told me the reason my skin is breaking out is because my glands are rebelling against nature. He says sex is the only answer. Yes or no? - Ashamed To Sign

Dear Ashamed: Are the guys still using that tired old line? See a dermatologist. And thank that swell fellow for offering himself up purely for medical purposes. He's all heart.

Norval district news

By DOROTHY McLEAN

John McDonald, author of "Haltos Sketches" was the guest speaker at Norval Women's Institute meeting held at the home of Ina Terry on Thursday evening, March 2nd.

Mr. McDonald showed slides and told about the early history of Haltos Hills. The evening brought back many memories to the older members and gave a very interesting picture of what living was like in the early days of this district to the younger members and to the new comers to the area.

Mr. McDonald was introduced by Dorothy McLean and Gladys Chester expressed the thanks of the members for his interesting talk and presented him with a small gift.

Mrs. Edna Murray presided for the meeting with 18 present. The roll call was "Your Childhood Home". The Tweedsmuir History Book (the history of Norval compiled by the W.I.) was on display and many enjoyed looking through the book.

Mrs. Marie Murray and Mrs. Jean Harrop assisted the hostess in serving lunch and a social time ended the evening.

The Pinevalley Squares Dancing group who meet each Wednesday evening for modern square dancing at the Norval School Community Centre with Earl and Flora MacArthur as leaders and Wes MacArthur as caller off, visited the Shamrock Squares Dancing group at Erin recently, and on Saturday evening, March 11th, they visited the White Oaks Dancing Group at Oakville for a special evening of dancing and competitions. Over 550 dancers attended and the Norval group report a good time.

On Friday evening, March 10th, the Norval United Church Couples Club met at the Norval Community Centre with the Pinevalley Squares as guests and their caller off Wes MacArthur. An evening of modern square dancing was enjoyed ending with lunch and a social time.

Union Presbyterian Church W.M.S. are busy quilting a couple of quilts at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Cook. One quilt is finished and the other is well on the way. Members drop in whenever they have time for quitting after a couple of all day quilting bees until the quilts are finished.

The quilts are queen size and will be sold to help raise funds for their missionary allocation.

Don't forget the Norval Cubs and Scouts paper drive planned for the 3rd Saturday of each month. Saturday morning, March 18th, will be the collection day this month. Have your papers ready at the end of the line to help the boys in the pick up. The papers will be sold for recycling and the money used for Cub and Scout projects.

The Norval Presbyterian Church W.M.S. held a Mary Martha meeting at the church on Tuesday, February 28th with nine members and five visitors present.

A quilting bee was held and two quilts were finished. Those not quilting gave the kitchen good cleaning. At noon a pot luck luncheon under the supervision of Mrs. G. Chester, Mrs. Craig Reid, and Mrs. M. Campbell, was served.

The luncheon was followed by the meeting with Mrs. T. McGee presiding, Mrs. Dixon Duff gave an excellent study on the Book of Esther. Mrs. McGee read the scripture, chapter 4 of the Book of Esther.
