By MAGGIE HANNAH

Herald staff writer "Bill 59 is the greatest con job ever played on woman." says the vice-president of the Oakville Single Fathers Soclety. "While they have been talking all about the benefits women will receive under the new legislation they have failed to say where they will not benefit," says Gord Rogers, a father of two.

"Women now have the same problems every man has had all along," he points out. "Their responsibilities have increased dramatically now that they have equality."

"They can be expected to support their husbands, can have their wages garnished for support of their husbands and children can even be cited for contempt of court and sent to jail if they do not make support payments as the court awards them," he says. "Welfare can even come to a woman and claim every penny they spend on her husband if he winds up on their rolls after a separa-

Mr. Rogers, replying to a special feature on family law published in The Herald, says he and his group have been put down as being sexist and antiwomen because they opposed some parts of the legislation.

Their opposition is not based on a belief that women can't handle the changes, he says. What has really disturbed him is the way women have been kept in the dark as to what these changes would mean for Women can cope with their new responsibilities, he feels, once they realize what they are, but it was totally wrong of the government to mislead them into thinking that the changes would make life eas ier and more secure for them in case of separation or di-

Mr. Rogers compared the new Hamily Law Reform Act to legislation passed in West Germany last year which was designed to end the practise of assigning guilt in a divorce action. He feels that Ontario's new legislation will quite possibly be viewed much as the German changes have been. A New York Times article on the German legislation termed it "so complicated, so convoluted, so forbidding" to residents that "in the six months after it took effect in July, the number of divorces compared with the same period in 1976 fell to 5,000 from 50,000."

> Mr. Rogers is a firm believer in communication between spouses when it comes to working out separation agreements. The less that can be left for a lawyer to handle the better, in his view, since he can quote too many horror stories of people in, or known to, his organization who now have huge legal bills as a result of handing all their problems over to a lawyer. Leaving it up to a judge to decide whether a marriage contract or separation agreement is equitable to both parties is also something he views with suspicion. Who can tell whether what separating partners feel is equitable will also be equitable to a judge, he

He notes that lawyers are already advising men facing separation hearings to get themselves fired from their lobs so that their wives will be the ones with the larger salaries and therefore the ones who end up having to make support payments.

The other two bills which came into effect March 31 are just as flawed as the Family Law Reform Act and the Succession Law Reform Act.

The Children's Law Reform Act, formerly Bill 61, was passed in November and deals with changes in laws to remove any distinction between legitimate and illegitimate children.

Part 2, section 4, of the Act allows any person with an interest in a child to apply to a court for recognition as the child's legal parent.

While this might be suitable enough in some cases Mr. Rogers is not happy with the possibilities this opens for one parent to lose his or her rights to children without any re-

While parents may separate and decide to live with other partners that doesn't mean they automatically want to lose all their rights to their children. Many times the separated parents aren't even happy with the fact that the other partner has been given custody of their children and they certainly don't know the new partner the separated spouse has chosen, he says

"The government has given the right to any kind of jerk to get control of my kids and 1 haven't even a way to fight him," he says. Mr. Rogers also finds the length of time allowed in law between the termination of a marriage and the birth of a deemed responsible as another strange matter. The law says a child born 300 days or less after the end of a marriage by death or divorce is the legal child of that marriage. What really disturbs Mr. Rogers is that fact that the average gestation period is only 280 days. That feaves wives 20 days leeway during which they may become pregnant and their former husbands will still be legally responsible for the child. This, of course, is mild compared to the loophole which

NORVAL UCW BAKE SALE

Betty Hagen, left, purchases a pie from. The bake sale was just one of several similar Anne Wilson at the bake sale table held by the activities taking place throughout Halton Hills at the weekend. Norval UCW at Zeller's Saturday morning

THE HERALD. Wednesday, April 26, 1978 - Page 21 five years after they separate,

When a couple separate, it usually takes three years before they can apply for a divorce. Then it takes another 12 to 18 months before the case comes before a judge and a further 90 days before an absolute decree takes effect. A man could be considered legally responsible for a child his wife bears at any time up to

The Marriage Act, 1977, formerly referred to as Bill 62. also leaves Mr. Rogers wondering as to whether homosexual couples may now marry legally because there is no male or female reference in the Act.

Drive One To-Day!! 1978 VW RABBITS Open Saturdays MORE MILES . . . MORE SMILES

"AT BAZ MOTORS WE CARE!" BAZ MOTORS LTD. 119 Guelph St. Georgetown

walk from beaches on the 676-1813

Mayel

San Juan city of contrasts

SYNDICATED TRAVEL Spaniards and Americans NEWS - The capital city of Puerto Rico, San Juan, is a city of contrasts. It is also the oldest city under the American flag; a place of gleaming luxury hotels and ancient forts; a city true to its Latin heritage, where English is spoken through-

The most marked contrast is to be seen in Old San Juan, a seven-block area with narrow streets, colorful gardens, and filigree balconies. It's a spot of the 16th some. century tucked away on a point jutting into the sea.

back to the 16th century is "phosphorescent bay". In the new San Juan with its the waters of several of the. giant modern hotels, superb island's bays there are lum sports facilities, nightclubs inescent dinoflagellates, a and easinos, tem rate enter- tiny form of marine life that tainment, balnay weather, produces sparks of chemiand stretches of tranquil I cal light when disturbed.

beaches. how such a parao'ox came, guera, a fishing village on into being. The island was the southwest coast of the once part of the Spanish island, and there is also Empire, colonized after another active bay on the Columbus made his sectiond voyage to the New World. Vieques. Puerto Rico was ceded to the United States under t. he Treaty of Paris which ender 1 the Spanish-American War. The island, the fourth largest in the Caribbean, thus began its new life under American influence. Through the years, both have been attracted to the island, not only by its beauty, but also by its climate for Puerto Rico has an almost perpetual summer.

that San Juan is no more the something of its people, their culture and life-styles. you must be adventure-

You might wonder just rescent bay is near Par-should see these phospho-tion. rescent bays on a moonless creates silver ripples and leaping fish drip sprays of always had much of the Bear in mind that if you plan to visit Puerto Rico whole country than Winnipeg is all of Canada. To fully appreciate the island's natural beauties and to learn

One particular natural wonder in Puerto Rico is a Surrounding this throw- phenomenon known as a

> The best known phosphor nearby out island of

While Puerto Rico has their scenic beauty and Spanish way of life about it - from language to music to food - now the island has adopted yet another For the best effect, you part of the Spanish tradi-

These are small guest night, when a boat's wake hotels known as "Paradores", and they're located throughout the country. Paradores are renowned for unique personal hospitality. None of the paradores is a luxury resort, and neither are they meant to be. They are the perfect alternative for you travellers who are interested in something a little more cozy than a fancy resort hotel.

All the paradores in Puerto Rico are examined by the computer's Lourism Development Company and conform to specific standards of operation and quality, In addition to that, each owner or manager must be in residence

Whether you want to shop in brimming department stores and clic bou figures, or wander through Old San Juan's many quanti shops to seeks of Characters. whether you desire layory accommodation, or prefer family style small imiswhatever your preference, you can find it in Picito.

St. Kitts—undiscovered paradise day. It is the site of the is a polt course, and just a short SYNDICATED TRAVEL NEWS Cool trade winds whispering through the sugar cane . . . children laughing . . . donkeys braying . . . and cloud capped mountains dreaming in the brilliant sunshine. All this and more is there to greet you when you arrive in St. Kitts in the eastern Carib-

St. Kitts is actually part of a three-island state, the full and correct name of which is St. Christopher, Nevis and Anguilla. They now form an associated state with Britam, and St. Kitts and Nevis were once England's richest colonies in the West Indies. The people on St. Kitts make you teel welcome from the moment you arrive, and upon departure you get the impression they are sincere when they express sorrow at your leaving.

The islands ofter almost anything you would desire quiet restful holidays, sports facilities, entertainment, and beaches. The beaches are of two types one is basically black volcame sand, and the other is the white and light brown variety. No matter what type of sand you pick, the water of the eastern Carib bean is always delightful.

When awaking in the mornning, instead of hearing the traditional rooster crowing, your first waking moments are more often than not greeted by the braying of donkeys. If not prepared for this you may he startled; but the donkeys are used on farms and for transportation, and their braying confirms that you are in a different environ

The islands have differ ent styles of hotels from small intimate houses to new hotels directly over looking the sea.

If it's the smaller accommodation facility that appeals to you then the Fairview lun and the Ocean Ter race Inn on St. Kitts would fit the bill. Larger hotels there include the fort Thomas and the Royal St.

The Royal St. Kitts, located on a Crown Corporation development called Frigate Bay gives you a chance to pay for you hole

RELIEVE YOUR VACATION WORRIES **

Sal-Mar House-Sitters Inc. will take care of your home for you

. SSING RESENVAL · PLANTA PLECAME · OTHER SERVICES ON REQUEST · LAW', A PUMPL CARL

Leave your home in our capable hands SALLY ANGER MARGERY MUNDAY [416] 872-9514 (549) 834-9946

When the West

facent to a championship. Atlantic and the Caribbean.

land's only gasine, it is ad-

opens its heart

PLAN NOW TO ATTEND

BARBER & HENLEY COMPLETE TRAVEL SERVICE

33 Main St. S.

EXPRESS MAXI BUS SERVICES

DIRECT TO: FLORIDA

> FROM $150 per person return Minimum duration two weeks.

ALSO: * WESTERN CANADA ★ EASTERN PROVINCES ★ NEW YORK

•Service begins May 12 Limited space available

 Hotel accomodation can be arranged.

AVAILABLE ONLY THRU COCHRANE TRAVEL BUREAU MOORE PARK PLAZA

877-0222 453-0470 MON. - WED. 9-6 THURS. - FRI. 9.9 SAT. 9-6

Portugal still a bargain paradise

IF YOUR DESIRE IS FOR DELUXE but your budget says standard, take heart for there still is a country in Europe where a regal vacation can be had on a moderate budget. Portugal remains one of Europe's best vacation values. Although inflation is rearing its ugly head throughout the world, the dollar continues to go farther in Portugal than just about anywhere else.

IRONICALLY, IT TOOK A REVOLUTION to make Portugal one of the best bets for the tourist. Several years ago, the country went through some turbulence which was mostly noise but little violence. Many tourists who were in the country during the height of the political activity reported that they were unaware of any revolution except for what they read in papers or heard over the radio. The only real sign of turmoil was the graffiti left upon the walls which, for the most part has since been removed.

Unfortunately for the country, it received a lot of bad press which discouraged a great many people who ordinarily would have chosen Portugal as their vacation destination. Fortunately for the smart travel shopper, the Portuguese are doing everything in their power to encourage the return of tourism to their country.

THE PRICE IS RIGHT and the service is excellent. For instance, a nights' accommodation at either the Ritz or the Sheraton in Lisbon, both deluxe hotels, is about $30 per couple. When you-consider that just a single room in many of our larger cities can cost nearly twice that, you can appreciate the value of staying at the best.

While you might feel that a hotel is a hotel, a night or even a week at the Ritz is a real pleasure in itself. The average bedroom unit covers over 500 square feet and includes a large terrace. While the bedroom is tastefully decorated, the bathroom is undeniably lavish. Marble throughout, the tub is separate from the marble shower stall and gigantic towels are hung over hot water pipes so that the hotel patron will not shiver us he dries off. That is class.

Low Cost-Canadian CityLink Charters TORONTO-HALIFAX Return $99

but mornings weekly, mine 24 to Aug. 26 for 2 weeks. Return $99 TORONTO-CHARLOTTETOWN thuc, attermons weekly, June 29 to Aug. 31 for 2 weeks TORONTO-ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. Return $ 149

Fire morning, weekly, fine 23 to Aug. 25 for 2 weeks. Return $ 169 TORONTO-CALGARY but evening weekly, hore 24 to Sep. 30 for Lor 2 weeks.

Return $ 199 TORONTO-VANCOUVER Sat mornings weekly, June 24 to Oct. 21 for 1 or 2 weeks. ABC Charters To The U.K.

From $279 TORONTO-PRESTWICK CP Air Jet departs Toronto Thursday evenings weekly

TORONTO-BELFAST From $299 Quehec Air Boeing 707 let departs Toronto Tuesday evenings weekly TORONTO-MANCHESTER From $314 Laker Airways DC 10 Jumbo Jet departs

Toronto Monday evenings weekly TORONTO-LONDON (Gatwick) Laker Airways DC 10 Jumbo Jet departs Toronto

Wednesday and Friday evenings weekly

