MEMORIAMS

EMMERSON—In loving memory of Joseph who passed away June 18, 1977
'Tis well he will suffer no more
In the loved land of the blest.
Pain fled as he trod heaven's shore,
It left him at Peace and Rest.
—Always loved and ever remembered by wife Lena and Marina, Terry, Grant & Joan, Trudy & Rick.

EMMERSON—In loving memory of a dear Grandfather Joseph, who passed away June 18, 1977.
What we would give if we could say,
Hello Grandad in the same old way.
To hear your voice to see you smile
To sit with you and chat awhile
So you who have a Grandfather,
Cherish him with care
For you'll never know the heartache
Till you see his vacant chair

Always loved and ever rembered by his grandchildren.

SYNDICATED TRAVEL NEWS — Camping tours in Europe have changed tremendously in the past few years. Gone are the days when a few young visitors would club together and buy an old, beat-up truck; throw in a few moth eaten tents and go on their hopeful way.

Today's young tourist will, like as not, travel in the latest Mercedes Benz, air conditioned coach and use camping gear custom designed for the job. It's the kind of operation that Contiki Tours has been running for the past seventeen years, and although the accent is now on comfort and safety, the name of the game is still camping, young people and fun.

For example, at the start of each trip — and Contiki runs tours throughout Europe, Russia and the Middle East — everyone contributes the same amount of money into a food kitty. And although an experienced cook is provided, the whole party is encouraged to help as much as they want. It's the same thing with pitching camp — everyone helps set up the two, three and four person tents, as well as the main mess tent. It's one way of keeping costs down, and making sure that everyone gets really involved in the fun.

In fact, involvement is probably the key to success of these tours. No two ways about it — camping is still one of the best ways of getting to know a country; and if you travel from campsite to campsite in a luxurious coach, who's to blame you? Better to be playing cards at the back, or simply enjoying the view, than waiting by the roadside with one thumb hopefully extended! At the same time, it's comforting to know that all the tour staff — guide, driver and cook — are fully experienced and are aware of all the pitfalls that can befall the unwary traveller.

Take, for example, the camping holiday Contiki runs to Greece and Turkey. It lasts five weeks, and also takes in France, Italy, San Marco and Yugoslavia. But can you imagine camping out in Corfu — or beneath the pines along Yugoslavia's Adriatic coast? How about the Greek Island of Mykynos, one of the most beautiful and sun-drenched isles in the Mediterranean? From there you can explore other islands, like Delos (home of Zeus and Athena); Paros, which sent the marble that built the Temple of Solomon. You could spend time on Naxos — and know that the laughter you hear echoing in the hills is Dionysus, the God of Wine, still happy with his bacchanalian revels. Later you can discover for yourself the magic that is still Istanbul; you can roam around Bursa, once the capital of the Ottoman Empire. You'll pitch camp in Kusadasi, once the home of the most feared pirates in the Eastern Mediterranean, but now better known for its beaches and barbeques.
