

Leadership Citizenship awards went to Ken Ward, Gordie Adams, Gal Maitland and Michele Richmond at Centennial's graduation ceremonies last Tuesday.

Improvement awards were presented to Wayne Griffiths, Rene Proulx, Jim Brown and Kevin Wilcox at Centennial Middle school's graduation ceremonies last week.

Sandra Lovegrove earned the principal's award and received it from Ron Chatten Tuesday evening at Centennial Middle school's graduation ceremonies.

Linda Hipp and John Harsma received the academic achievement awards at the Centennial Middle school graduation ceremonies last week. 233 students graduated at the ceremony. 26 of them earned school letters for their participation in all the four required phases of school activity while more than 700 all school letters were awarded to students who have participated in some but not all of the required areas of activity.

Awards for consistently hard work, effort, and attitude went to Janice Whatmough, Ruth Allworth, Cheryl Thompson, Brian Mettler and Kathy McGowan at the Centennial graduation ceremonies Tuesday evening.

Citizenship awards were presented to Heather Kellington and Allen Cunningham at Stewarttown Senior school's graduation night Monday. 233 students received their diplomas in the ceremony in Georgetown High School cafeteria.

The Stewarttown Centennial Senior Proficiency Trophy to the student with the highest academic standing was presented to Christine Hay (left) while trophy to the student with the second highest standing was awarded to Marilyn Bird.

Jacques Presseault received the trophy for the best all round student which was presented for the first time by the parents' association of Sacre Coeur separate school.

Eighteen students received awards at the graduation ceremonies held recently at Holy Cross School.

Academic awards were presented to Cathy Hart (92 per cent) and Sean McCarthy (90 per cent). Anthony Oram and Michelle Michm were the recipients of the athletic awards.

Rosemary Vito and Kieran McCauley were presented with the Good Citizenship Awards sponsored by the Holy Cross Parents' Association. The good citizenship awards were given on the basis of contribution to the success of the school, and the maintaining of academic standards.

An award for most improvement made in English expression and language arts, sponsored by the I.O.D.E. was presented to Gail Doucette. Michael Jones and Margaret Smith were the recipients of awards for the promotion of school spirit, sponsored by the Knights of Columbus and the Catholic Women's League. The Music award was presented to Kenny Chasson.

Milk Maid awards were presented to Carla Hickey and Donna Blackmore. Chip Girls awards were presented to Patricia Beach, Rosemary Hartley, Sandra Crane, Jackie Chapman, Karen Penney and Judy van Glicaf.

Congratulations graduates

Sacre Coeur's graduates paused in the midst of their festivities Tuesday evening to have a class photo taken. Graduates are front row (from the left) Roland Larose, Jeannette Larocque, Rose Montigny, and Jocelyn Boucher. Middle row: Raymond Routhier, Peter Martineau, and Paul St. Pierre. Back row: Roger Larocque, Georges Parker, Emil Savole, Jacques Presseault and Hector Frjolet.

Holy Cross School held its graduation and awards ceremony recently, and these students are among the recipients of awards. They are, front row, left to right, Rosemary Vito, Gail Doucette, Cathy Hart, and Margaret Smith. Back row, left to right, are Anthony Oram, Michael Jones, Kieran McCauley and Sean McCarthy.

Adela Rodriguez received the Legion Auxiliary Award for having the highest mark of the more than 160 graduates from the McKenzie-Smith Middle school in their first graduation ceremony last week. School letters for academic, athletic, cultural and citizenship activities were awarded to 13 students while eight other students earned small school letters for their participation in one or more of the above areas of school activity.

Ontario Scholars named

There are 45 Ontario Scholars among the 204 Grade 13 graduates in Halton Hills this year. Acton high school had seven Ontario Scholars out of 41 graduates and Georgetown had 38 Ontario Scholars in 163 graduates.

With the introduction of the semester system students can earn the required credits and graduate in January. Acton's January grads who earned the 80 per cent or better required to qualify as an Ontario Scholar were Paula Kitching 90.8, John Hogenbirk, 89, Neale Macmillan 84.7 and Linda Chaumont 80.

Georgetown's January Ontario Scholars were Terry Simpson 88.3, Roland Lechner 87.2, Jeannine D'Entremont 86.2, Wojtek Kozlinski 85.8, Laura Stevens 84.5, Shelley Jeffrey 84, Cathy Masson 82.5, Paul McCracken 82.3 and Valerie Schenk 80.3.

Acton's Ontario Scholars graduating in June were Laurie Pierce 87.8, David Berry 80.4 and Jocelyn Lamberink 80.

Georgetown's list of June Ontario Scholars were: Blair Thompson 85.2, Scott Turner, 93, Ron Bouwhuis 91, Allison Taylor 90.7, Chuck Kallil 90.2, David Nichols 90.2, James Gillanders 90, Edith Klee 89.3, Chris Halonen 88.7, Ted Shannon 87.7, Elaine Bertram 87.5, Robert Cleave 87.3, Linda Goss 86.8, David Sumpton 86.7, Brad Waters 86.7, Brian Hayward 86.5, Bruce Clark 86.2, Paul McAuley 85.7, Clive Browning 85.3, Eric Firth 84.5, James Lawson 83.8, Catherine Hart 82.5, Gerald Harrison 82.3, Alan Roxborough 81.7, Lance Adams 81.2, Joe South 81.2, Luke Egan 80.3, Peter Stapleton 80.3, Mark Cannon 80.2.

Acton also listed 84 students graduating from Gr. 12 while 299 students completed their Grade 12 at Georgetown high school.

McKenzie-Smith Middle school sportsmanship awards went to Rob Vermellin and Kelly White at the graduation ceremonies last week. The intermediate public speaking award was also presented to Steve Saxton.

Bursaries were presented to the best all round male and female students at McKenzie-Smith Middle school's first graduation ceremonies in the school auditorium Tuesday evening. Recipients were Paul Nolan and Sue Kinal.

Marilyn Bird earned the only school letter presented this year to graduates. The letter is only presented to a student who has earned the required number of points in each of the sports, academic and interest areas available to students.

Lakeside IODE presented awards to the most improved male and female students in the school at their first graduation ceremony last week. Recipients were Greg Malby and Robbin Hanson.

The J. Lenz award for the most improved male student from year 7 to year 8 went to Richard Moore while Gretchen Sankey received the D.R. Magwood award for the most improved girl student in year 8.