Demolition of old jail

should be demolished. The committee had asked itsstaff to prepare a report on the proposed disposal of the entire jail complex bounded by West Mary, Hugh, King and Brown Streets in downtown Milton. While surveying a variety of regional and municipal agencles, staff members discovered substantial interest among Milton councillors and Mayor historic jail. Halton's chief administrative officer, Ernie Reid, accepted a suggestion that the jail's former registry office could be used by the regional health and social services department at an annual rental fee of $5,000.

"Retention of the registry office will also give some recognition to the historic value of the buildings without unnecessary financial costs," Mr. Reid reported to the committee. "In addition, the ministry of health would subsidize the rental on the health port-leasing of the property to Milton for use as a parking lot or a park.
