

city centre lifestyle

City Centre Lifestyle is an attempt to familiarize area residents with the types of services available at Bramalea City Centre. We're more than just a shopping centre. We look at the City Centre project as the core of the community with not only stores, but a hotel, medical offices, regional government offices, the Brampton Board of Trade, the Cancer Society office, and the riding office of Ross Milne, MP.

To bring all this information to residents, we felt we should institute a quarterly magazine. We hope you enjoy this second issue of City Centre Lifestyle.

City Centre Lifestyle is published quarterly by the Bramalea City Centre. Editorial: Bob Pannycok. Advertising: Ken Koyama, Karla Pearson, George Stewart, Glenn Fraser. Photography: George Beshiri. Vol. 1, No. 2, October, 1978.

There's a new service in the lower level of Bramalea City Centre. Rather than going the conventional merchandising route, mall management decided to use some of its space as a permanent home for craftsmen.

City Centre is on the move. A hotel is being built, construction of the regional headquarters building is underway, a medical centre is going up and within the mall itself, more specialized, sophisticated stores are being opened to serve area residents. The mall is also getting a facelift.

The food outlets at Bramalea City Centre cater to all tastes and to all pocketbooks.
