The new mayor sald he is hoping come January, to find himself at the head of "a good responsible council" that is ready to maintain " a tight fiscal policy" throughout its

"Development in this town has been hamstrung for years because the council couldn't decide how it wanted the town to grow," he said. "I think that once we make that decision and get our priorities into place, our future relationships with local developers will sort themselves out."

Coun. Pomeroy commented that his confidence in the success. A comment paign g... last week when both senior citizens and young people from around the town began stopping by his Georgetown headquarters to offer their support. The physical efforts of his campaign workers, rather than the campaign strategy itself, is primarily credited with shifting the weight of the - election.

VOTE INCREASE Noting that a 2,000-vote increase in voter turn-out at the polls indicates a growth in public interest in local government, Coun. Pomeroy promises to open the doors to all community-oriented organizations and service clubs and give them free rein in developing public projects. He called such groups "the backbone of our social community." Coun. Pomeroy has stressed his intention to follow his predecessor's example and make the mayoralty a full-time job, he said Tuesday that he may maintain a passive involvement in his downtown store, North Halton Sports, but for the most part will be available to Halton Hills citizens at his office on Trafalgar Road or the new liason office in Acton. He. anticipates a 50 to 60-hour a week commitment for the initial few months of his administration while he learns the ropes of the job. "Tom Hill is a politician who's been around for a long time and, throughout it all, put a lot of hours into his job," Coun. Pomeroy said of his predecessor. "Tom did his job very well. The community owes him a vote of thanks for all of his efforts on the public's behalf. I'm sure it's a thankless job at the best of times "

Good Reply

Robert was stopped in the alley by a panhandler. "Sir, I haven't eaten in two days," was the approach. . "That's awful," Robert replied, "you should force yourself to cat."

Two ladies who contribute much to our Armistice evening were recognized and thanked and they were Audrey Martin who looks after the head table and many important details for the evening and Miss Dorothy Stone who keeps our book of Remembrance up to date. They are both vital to the success of our Remembrance Hank Prysky and his lovely evening. TWO PARADES

Two parades and services on Sunday Nov. 12 the first being in Glen Williams and our Pipe Band were 10 men strong, leading the parade was Parade Marshall Ernie Peasey with pipe band members Don Greig, Rob Denham, Joe Goudy and Bill McCartney as drummers and George Greig. Gord Grozier, Charlie Thompson, Don Burns, Ian Cooper and Doug Weir, our pipers. Colour parties were Branch . Bob Waites, Bill Collier and Art Hall, for the Imperial Section - Hay Clarke, George Sandifer and Art Lawrence with Sgt. at Arms Harry bottoms leading, for the Auxiliary - Jean Reid, Marion Carney and Jessie Jones with Set. at Arms Mare Clarke leading. At the master Flag Statts were Gord Reid, Joe Martin and Bob Lowrie. Honour Guard were Air Cadeta F-S K. Heaton, Gst. Williamson, Sgt. Parsons and Sgt. Nicholson, carrying flags were A-C Williamson and A-C Groskorth with W-O Cousens in charge. MPP Julian Reed, Mayor Tom Hill, Russ Miller and Padre end and the only holiday that is Peter Barrow were in attenstill untainted by the sound of dance. Five members of the jingling cash registers, as yet Acton Citizens Band joined us they have not found a way to and led us in O Canada and make money out of Armistice God Save The Queen and Piper George Greig played the La-Our 2 charter Aux. members ment with Jim Saxon playing the Last Post and Reveille. tion and well deserved as we About 20 branch members owe a great deal to both Mrs. were on parade and a small Aleda McCartney and Mrs.

handfull of Glen residents. Our second parade and service was at Georgetown Remembrance Park and was one of the biggest parades in years. Again Parade Marshall was Ernie Peasey who led the parade with the same members in the Pipe Bund, followed by Sgt. at Arms Harry Bottom and the same 3 colour parties but with a much larger turnout Tom Hill thanked the branch of members. There had to be at feast 90 out, counting members, colour parties, officers tion felt between he and counand band. Several members of eil with Branch 120 over the the Ladies Auxiliary were on past many years and felt sure parade with President Hazel it would continue for many Dumper in the lead. who selden get the recognition they should are Andy Syme, Jamie Smith and Neils Music Store. Andy and Jamie are first on the scene to set up mikes and sound system and assure that everything is in working order and while those . who were on the first parade are in warming themselves they are down at the Park getting everything in order for our second service. A large vote of thanks to Jamie and to Neils who are so co-operative when requested to help the Legion. HAPPY TIMES Happy times prevailed back at the branch as all children on parade were served hot chocolate by Doris Chamberlain and Bub Waltes and the adults were offered hot coffee to warm the numb body. A sing song was soon underway with Georgelown's best, comrades Doug Sorgent, Bill Collier, Jim Christie, Colin Cousens, Trevor Williams, Art Hall, Ken McLeod, Ormie Carter, Doug Wood, Jim Yates, George Sargent, Sam Gisby, to name just a few. A few members of our Pipe Band sang a few songs also and the whole room soon joined in and a good time was had by all. The Lorne Scots extended hospitality to us and the evening ended on a very happy note.

We have 3 card auxiliary euchre teams off to St. Georges (near Brantford) this weekend to play for Regional Rita Rudiger our Regional Sports Officer will be looking after all activities. Good luck

Harry Bottoms asks that I remind the Initiation Team that there will be a practice at 1 p.m. SHARP on Sunday Nov. 19. This is for parade to Bramalea. It is important to be at the branch on time fella's. In hospital are Don Cook

(Georgetown), Bill Bryden (room C W 330, 101 College St. G. West, Toronto General Hospital), Joyce Markham (382 CTerento East General Hosp., 825 Coxwell Ave.), Martin Moriarity (Georgetown) Auxihary member Lily Maybanks (Georgetown) June Greig. I'm sure a visit or a card would do a lot to lift the spirits of our members. We were very saddened last week upon hearing of the death of one of our dear Auxiliary members Mrs. Elizabeth Kemshead, affectionately called "Kempy" by her many friends. Not too long ago, Kempy was presented with her 50 year pin by Aux. Pres, Hazel Dumper, while in Milton Manor, a proud moment indeed. She was twice president of the Auxiliary (1936 and 1947) and held many positions including office of Treasurer about it years There was an St. vice last Thursday for our late comrade with many in attendance. To her family of Jack, Albert, Vera and Ethel and their families we extend our mest sincere sympathics in your loss of a loved one. Doris Clarke asks that I make a correction of the time she'il be down at the branch to accept bazoar donations. It is from 3 p.m. on til the cupper time and then back offer supper for a few hours. This will be on Thursday, Nov. 23. Almost forgot this important thank you from Harry Bottoms. Harry would like to convey his special thanks to all colour party personnel for a terrific drill parade and on parade performance. Your music will be provided for your dancing pleasure this Friday by Norm Eyres and on Saturday by Boots of regional council will vote to choose a successor to outgoing chairman Ric Morrow in Junuary. No candidates for the job have come forward as yet.

Coun. Booth explained that he may have entered the race with no expectations of winning the chairmanship, intending only to "arrange the votes" around the table by off-setting support for an individual candidate so that the interests of Halton Hills could become a factor in the voting, despite the fact that Halton Hills councilfors are vastly outnumbered at the region.

Since an election campaign in Ward 3 became necessary. however, Coun. Booth acknowledged that he will follow up on his commitment to his voters to continue representing them on local and regional councils.

Mr. Sykes declined to comment at length on the outcome of the Ward 3 regional council election, observing simply that "the people made their choice." He assured The Herald, though, that his involvement in municipal politics is not yet at an end, and his supporters can look forward to his re-entry into the local political scene sometimes in

Operation Action new program in Halton Hills

Operation Action is a new program in Halton Hills, dedieated to getting people movinb, no matter how young or old the bones.

Operation Action, which stands for Activities Coordinated Towards Indoor-Ouldoor Needs, is a three-person team sponsored by a Canada Works grant and the town of Halion Hills. The idea of the program is to get Halton Hills residents involved in some kind of physical activity, from walking to bowling, to jogging to

The three-person team is made up of project manager Heather Leslie, Doug Mosdell and Marlene Avery. Miss Leslie graduated with a Bachelor of Physical Education degree from Brock University: Mr. Mosdell has a degree in Physical Education and Recreation from the University of New Brunswick; Miss Avery has a Bachelor of Education degree from Lakehead University. Operation Action will be working closely with the borad of education to promote physical fitness in schools, and getting involved in the community as a whole in assessing the town's recreational needs. Miss Leslie said. The team hopes to assist in improving existing programs and implementing new ones. SPECIAL EVENTS

A number of special events have been planned over the next year, such as a crosscountry ski-o-rama, "How to" clinics on various aports and activities and the return of the Fitness Van. A "how to" clinic on cross-country skiing, with experts from the Ontario Ski Association, has already been
