Tune in to the latest in black and white TV

Five new small screen black and white TVs are available in Quasar's 1979 line. The advanced technology features include a new developed electronic (varactor) tuner, a new Quasar feature for black and white TV. The one control tuner dials both UHF and VHF channels on a single slide rule dial. There are no contacts to wear or require cleaning. Great tuning accuracy is possible.

Highlights of the line include a new Entertainment Center, Model XP1239, which is Quasar's most useful black and white TV set. This unit, which operates on AC or DC or 9 heavy duty "ID" cells (included), features a 3-inch diagonal picture tube. A sun screen opens over the picture viewing area. The unit also includes FM/AM, FM Stereo and Weatherband radio and for the first time Stereo Cassette Record/Play. A 5 watt amplifier and two speakers produce excellent sound. A tuning/record meter is also included, along with twin built-in condensers, microphones, input and output jacks, a stereo headphone and lighted dials. In the Quasar 5-inch screen model, Model XP1453 features digital clock, FM radio, AM radio and Weatherband radio.

plus a sleep switch which automatically shuts off the unit after one hour and a snooze alarm. Not only is the digital clock face lighted, it has a dimmer control to allow adjustment to just the proper level. Model XP1459 is another new small screen entry introduced in the 5" diagonal screen size. Called the "Toteable," it operates on AC, DC, or 9"D" (included) batteries, and accepts a recharge able battery pack. The unit features FM, AM and Weatherband radio. An adjustable dial light and Electra-tune (varactor) tuner make station tuning for TV or radio extremely simple. A single antenna covers all uses. For those who want TV only, 5" and 7" diagonal models with built-in batteries are also available.

Catch the greatest show on television with an exciting new projection system

Designed to respond to increasing demand for giant screen projection TV is Quasar's new Great Show Machine. Schmidt Optics, a non-refractive optic system which transmits more light to the screen, and an in-line tube configuration to produce a better convergence, result in an image that is brighter and sharper than in the past. The self-contained unit eliminates the need to position and align two separate pieces. The 5" diagonal screen is washable, and the unit is housed in a highly styled, compact cabinet requiring little more space than a 25" diagonal console. The Projection System incorporates all of Quasar's most advanced features. Included are a remote version of Quasar's unique Compu-Matic touch tuning, the Dynalock one-button color control system built into the projection unit, VIR and a special enhanced version of Quasar's Audio Spectrum Sound featuring four speakers which ensure that the unit will sound as good as it looks.

THE GREAT SHOW MACHINE... The new Quasar Projection TV incorporates Quasar's most advanced TV features, including a 5 foot diagonal, washable Ekaltite screen and four speakers. Easy viewing under normal light conditions is due to Schmidt Optics and an in-line tube configuration. The unit can be remotely controlled with B2 channel access.

Choose the video cassette for you

Two video tape cassette systems, marketed under the name of "The Great Time Machine," are highlights of Quasar's 1979 line. The VR1000 features a single head record-playback system. It is the only recorder that permits multiple unattended recordings, a very important benefit. The VH5010 is a new four-hour system with a built-in digital clock timer and the convenience of both forward and reverse capability. It allows one on/off operation to be preset. The unit features remote edit and memory rewind that lets you find a specific spot on a tape.

THIS GREAT TIME MACHINE by Quasar is a VHS-format home video cassette recorder which will record up to 1 hour in the long play (LP) mode and up to 2 hours in the standard play (SP) mode. Features a built-in electronic digital clock-timer, audio dubbing, memory rewind, and remote pause. Finished in walnut grain and brushed metallic.

The perfect pair

priced components in terms of performance. As always, compacts are space-savers, too. Whichever way you go, there's more products than ever to choose from and at all price ranges. The products deliver more performance and reliability than ever before.

Finally, we might mention two other trends in audio worthy of your attention. Audio equipment today is so good that it's often difficult for a record, tape or FM stereo broadcast to take full advantage of the audio equipment's specs, or playback potential. For this reason, a number of companies have begun introducing so-called direct-to-disc recordings. These recordings are exactly what the terminology implies: they are recorded directly onto the disc rather than taped and then put on disc form.

These direct-to-disc recordings deliver tremendous sonic presence. You'll instantly hear the difference and you might want to consider buying some. Prices run from $12 to $15 per record. It's important to be aware of the proliferating number of products the audio industry is making available to help you take care of both your records and tapes and the equipment you play them on. You can give your records baths, swab the heads on your tape decks and perform a variety of maintenance functions to keep your total system running smoothly and delivering maximum performance and sound pleasure. Ask your local dealer about them. They cost very little and they maximize your listening enjoyment.

Compact stereo: easy way to get it together

There's no doubt that you can make your purchase of an audio system very complicated. But you can make it simple too. That's what compact stereo is all about. If you don't want to make three, four or five separate buying decisions that the purchase of components requires to assemble a system, try a one-decision, all-in-one compact stereo. Compacts are typically easier on your sound budget and you'll be surprised at the quality available today. Compacts are so good today that many rival lower-

PLEASING CONTEMPORARY DESIGN WITH FULL BASEMENT

This smartly modern split level design features three bedrooms and a full basement and is ideally suited to the smaller family having a medium frontage building lot. The forward sloping shingle roof with skylight over the entrance, vertical channel siding and stone veneer of the exterior finish establish a modern low profile facade which is offset by the charming double bow windows of the living and dining room.

The deeply weather recessed entrance leads into a compact foyer, past the formal dining room and naturally left into the long rectangular living room. The living room features a centrally positioned fireplace, flanked by double cantilevered ledge benches, and an interestingly curved bow window with full height glass for natural light and an excellent view.

A large L shaped kitchen-nook combination separates from both the main hall and the formal dining room via space saving pocket door. The nook invites furnishing with built in breakfast nook decor.

A single car garage, with ample space for the development of a workshop for the maintenance-minded handyman, and a weather protected entrance from the side completes the lower level facilities of this design.

All three bedrooms are elevated eight risers from the main level of the house for freedom from disturbance and visual interest. Each has ample closet storage and excellent view and natural lighting. The large master bedroom has a three piece ensuite with a corner shower behind a convenient pocket door.

A full basement affords generous space for the future development of additional bedrooms and wet bar-recreational facilities for the growing family.

Plans for design No. 78 1411 may be purchased either by the single set, at a cost of $70. for the first set and $10. for each additional set, or by the package. A five set plan package, including the first set, is economically priced at $300. and an eight set package, also including the first set, is only $125.

Whichever method you choose, please include $4. for postage and handling.
