Police report

Burglaries continue to be a major problem for Halton Regional Police In Halton Hills, with juveniles responsible for at least two break-ins this week. Two juveniles have been apprehended following a break -in at the Records on Wheels store in the Georgetown Market Plaza. The burglars gained entry by smashing a front door. They stole $350 worth of various records, shirts and belt buckles. Two juveniles have also been apprehended in a break-in at the Pop City store on Guelph Street. The burglars got in by smashing the front door window, and stole assorted cartons and packages of cigaret-The office of Frank Heller and Company Limited in Georgetown was broken into, but no signs of forced entry was visible. Minor damage was done to one wall, but it isn't known at this time if anything was taken. A vehicle stolen from in front of the owner's residence was later recovered on Murdock Street. The doors were unlocked and the keys were left in the Restoration committee exceeds town deadline

The citizen's committee formed in 1977 to set plans for the restoration of Acton's old town hall has exceeded the Dec. 31, 1978, deadline set by town council to get renovations underway.

Coun. Russ Miller was one of several persons at Monday night's council meeting wondering what is happening with the Save the Town Hall comunttee. While the matter is not orgent, he conceded, new information should be forthcommg in the near future so that council can take any financial needs into consideration at hudget time this spring.

ancial assistance for the town hall renovation project is available from the Wintario corporation and the Ontario Heritage Foundation, provided that equal assistance is offered by the town and its citizens as well, the committee launched a public fund-raising drive that recently began collecting donations from Acton homeown-
