Tigers to play Oldtimers

Tickets for the Acton Tigers game against the NHL Oldtimers are not selling too well in Georgetown.

At present there are six Georgetown players on the Tigers roster, including Rob Paton, who is one of the team's big guns.

The January 28 date at Acton arena also offers local hockey fans a chance to see some great oldtimers such as Andy Bathgate and Bob "Boomer" Baun.

Georgetown fans interested in purchasing tickets may contact J-T Sports in Acton or The Herald.

Ski - Quebec

Quebec's Eastern Townships and the Quebec City region continue to gain fame and recognition among both alpine and cross-country skiers throughout Eastern North America.

The Ski East area extends from 65 km (40 miles) south-east of Montreal at Bromont to include Mont-Sutton, Mont-Orford and Owl's Head near Mansonville, just north of the Vermont border.

Bromont has three double chair lifts plus an assortment of lesser tows to serve a 390 m vertical drop (1,300 feet) and an excellent choice of terrain and groomed trails.

Bromont is also a popular day skiing centre for Montreal-based skiers so night skiing is available on a complimentary basis to ski-week guests. An extensive network of cross-country trails is adjacent to the alpine slopes.

A new mountain-top chalet with a full slate of cafeteria services and two new glade-skiing slopes will be ready for the current season.

At the hill, accommodation for ski-week guests can be obtained by contacting Bromont Tourist Association, P.O. Box 29, Bromont, Quebec or call (514)534-2670.

Mont-Orford, just across the Eastern Autoroute from the resort town of Magog, claims a separate peak for all three levels of skiing skill.

Mont-Orford (490 vertical metres or 1600 feet), flanked by Mount-Giroux and Massif-Nord, is served by twin chair lifts that allow access to testing intermediate terrain and several of the most challenging expert runs in eastern Quebec.

Easier terrain for the less adventurous is enjoyed on Mount-Giroux and Massif-Nord.

Cross-country skiers have the well-groomed trail network of Mont-Orford Provincial Park to enjoy should they desire a change of pace from the alpine slopes.

Ripplecove Inn at nearby Ayers Cliff and Hovey Manor at North Hatfield still retain the gentle elegance and gracious atmosphere of the older and more traditional resorts while the Auberge de l'Etoile in downtown Magog matches the fine fare with a touch of nightlife.

Contact Mont-Orford's Reservation Bureau, P.O. Box 248, Magog, Quebec, or call 819-843-4200.

Mont-Sutton continues to grow bigger and better with the installation of the area's fifth chair lift this year. The new lift, with a 330 m vertical drop (1100 feet) opens a new area of glade skiing on the upper mountain adding even greater variety to the existing 32 km (20 miles) of trails.

Accommodation at and within a 16 km radius (12 miles) of the mountain can be obtained by contacting the Sutton Tourist Association, P.O. Box 418, Sutton, Quebec or telephone (514) 535-2646.

Owl's Head also expanded their lift capacity by adding a new chair lift for the 78-79 season. The new lift provides access for the new runs that extend to the shore of Lake Memphremagog and gives Owl's Head an overall lift-served vertical drop of 540 m (1800 feet).
