

Sailors surprise Raiders in action here

They opened up in the second period which saw McDuffe and Stewart at their very best. Each netminder stopped 15 shots. McDuffe was beaten for two goals, but he had little chance on either of them.

The second Sailor goal came off a rebound after a hard shot from the point. Don Cole was the scorer.

It was the third Sailor goal that took the heart out of the Raiders. It came while the Sailors' John Harrison was serving a tripping penalty. Currie had the puck at the point and while trying to move around a defender the puck got away from him. He was the last man back.

Don Cole took the loose puck and had a clear cut breakaway. McDuffe stopped him, but Pat Flynn was following the play and he put the rebound over the goaltender.

McDuffe made several fantastic saves during the period as the Sailor forwards got by the Raider defenders and went in on breakaways.

Tonelli had the Raiders best chance, but he was stopped by Stewart.

STRONG THIRD

The Raiders came on strong in the third period, particularly in the final half and had several good chances to score.

With still 12:36 left on the clock the Raiders finally got

Hockey players wanted

The CAN-AM Hockey Group is looking for young players interested in playing professional hockey in Europe.

According to the press release sent out by CAN-AM there is "a large number of openings with professional hockey teams in Europe."

Canadian and American players with Dutch, German, Swiss and other European and Scandinavian descent are particularly in demand.

The CAN-AM group holds European tryout camps at Guelph for Canadian and American players wanting to play in Europe.

Managers and coaches of various European teams attend the camp to assess the talent.

Players of direct European descent are in high demand because it is very easy for them to obtain non-import status.

A player can obtain non-import status if he was born when his father held citizenship or dual citizenship in one of the European countries where hockey players are needed. The father need no longer have a citizenship at present for the country.

The major demand for players comes from Germany, Holland and Switzerland.

on the board.

Tonelli collected a rebound off a shot by Terry Porter and drove it into the net.

Milne did not earn a point on the goal but it was he who kept Stewart occupied. The Sailors put up a mild argument, saying Milne was in the crease, but the marker stood.

The final Sailor goal, by Roy, was fired into a net which had been vacated by McDuffe in favor of a sixth attacker.

Most of the Raiders were not on top of their games. Aside from Tonelli and McDuffe only Ron Twiss had what could be termed a good showing.

Due to lack of bodies, Inglis was forced to mix up his lines. He used Juri Kudrasova between Colin Gordon and Steve Blundy. Tonelli was on two lines. He took a shift with Milne and Porter as well as flanking Evans with Daley on the other side.

Inglis went most of the night with three defenseman. Currie, Twiss and John Boyce handled all the blueline chores.
