

Raiders score late second period goal

goal came with both Fogal and John Boyce in the sinbin.

A nice passing play up ice led to the goal. Jim Vanni was on the end of the passing play and he made no mistakes in beating McDuffe.

BAD PERIOD

It was not a good 20 minutes for the Raiders as they were in their own zone for much of the session. They managed to get just four shots on Katchanoski.

Collin Gordon had the best scoring for the home side, but fired just wide when he had Katchanoski at his mercy.

Late in the period the Merchants almost went ahead by two goals when Peter McDuffe could only get a piece of puck fired by Joe McKenna. The puck trickled by McDuffe and was headed in when the netminder reached back with his glove and stopped it on the goal line.

The Raiders came up with the equalizer on a power play effort with only 24 seconds remaining to be played in the middle frame.

Kudrasovs got the goal when he tipped in Sturgeon's pass from the corner. Tonelli, who did some fine work to keep control of the puck during the power play, also earned an assist.

Early in the third period Gordon and the Merchants' Barry Martinelli got into a slight scrap. Gordon picked up the extra two minutes for his part in the exchange.

In the two minutes in which both players were off the Raiders owned the puck, but they were unable to beat Katchanoski.

McDUFFE SHINES

Midway through the frame it was McDuffe's turn to shine as he made outstanding saves off Brazel and Wayne Smith.

Fogal also had a brilliant shift while the Raiders were playing a man short in the early part of the period. Twice he went down and blocked good shots.

Currie was also a standout in the third period as he aborted Merchant rushes before they really got started.

Newcomer Archie Chase scored the winner for the Raiders with just 4:11 showing on the clock.

Chase collected a loose puck about 15 feet in front of Katchanoski. The netminder was screened by a defenseman who had moved in front of him in hopes of blocking the blast.

After the goal, in what has become a tradition on Inglis' part, the coach protected the lead by leaving Tonelli on the ice throughout the last four minutes. With Katchanoski out for a sixth attacker the Merchants got a draw in the Raider zone. It was their last chance to tally the tying goal. Kudrasovs put an end to the potentially dangerous situation by winning the draw. It was without a doubt the best outing for the Raider defense this year. Inglis used Currie with Ron Twiss, who once again turned in a steady and heady performance and Fogal with Boyce for most of the match. All four players stood up in front of McDuffe and gave him good support.
