government would be too much involved, and that people are getting caught up in determining first whether there is a need for such a thing.

"In my view, one does what one has to do, then the need follows," he said. "Everyone told me I was crazy, when I set up this gallery — that it wouldn't work. Either you go ahead and do it, or you don't do it, in which case, you'll never know if you would have succeeded or failed."

"My personal feeling is to keep the government out of it," he added.

FAMOUS GUESTS

Many of the artists who are now well-known have been having shows in Gallery Sol since before their talents gained wide-spread recognition. Among some of the people whose work has been on exhibit at Gallery Sol are Barber Fairley, Joan Wilks, Sandra Artlverger, George Hawken, and Liz Covello St. Clair. Area artists have also been represented at the gallery, such as Lynn Wiggins of Oakville, who is a silversmith, and Angus Olive of Terra Cotta, who makes pottery.

Local police report

Dennis Scallen will appear at county court in Milton April 2 to set a date for his trial on charges of rape and indecent assault.

Mr. Scallen appeared in court Monday, but it was not possible to set a date and the case has been moved over to April 2.

Mr. Scallen is presently appealing a conviction of fraud in connection with the operation of a "convent" near Limehouse. Mr. Scallen, who refers to himself as Father Maria Benedict, called his "order" the Benedictines of Mary Immaculate. The convent was located in an industrial shed at RRT, Limehouse.

Police are looking for a suspect who assaulted an Acton man after stopping his car on the weekend.

A man reported that while driving in Acton, a vehicle with an unknown number of people in it stopped his car. When he got out of the car, an unknown man struck him in the face and about the head. The victim suffered cuts and bruises in the assault.

The suspect is described as being about 26 to 28 years old, 6'1" tall, weighing about 200 pounds, with black hair and sideburns below his ears. He was wearing a black jacket, blue jeans and work boots at the time of the attack.

A Toronto resident has been charged with theft from a vehicle following the disappearance of a stereo from a

Percy Walker Cleave

Long time Georgetown resident Percy Walker Cleave died in Georgetown and District Memorial Hospital on March 2. He was 91.

Mr. Cleave was born on a farm near Milton and came to Georgetown at the age of six when his parents bought a farm on the north end of town. He attended public and high school in Georgetown and took up farming himself, first at Wildwood and later on the land that has become part of Henry and Mary Streets. He was predeceased by his wife, Kathleen, in 1971.

Mr. Cleave was a life member of the North Halton Golf and Country Club and served as treasurer of the
