Colin Gordon

Gordon top Raider

The OHA Intermediate "A" loop does not have a Comeback Player of the Year Award, but if they did Colin Gordon would have to be very seriously considered as its recipient this year.

Gordon, the Georgetown's Raiders' Player of the Month for February, has been one of the team's steadiest performers throughout the campaign.

One short year ago Gordon was cut by then Raider-coach Junior Tibbitts. At the time Tibbitts said he cut Gordon because the rightwinger was not in good shape.

Attitude was also a problem with Gordon last year. He rarely travelled to away games and he also did not give 100 per cent on every shift.

This year has been a totally different story. Gordon has played in most of the team's games and not once has anybody with the team said anything about an attitude problem with the winger.

Many peoples' efforts made dinner success

By DAVE KENTNER
Hockey Heritage
Council Chairman

The 1979 Hockey Heritage Dinner is history and while we have already had one committee meeting to plan next year's event, I would like to take this opportunity to convey a few of my own reflections on this year's dinner.

a) The project is a huge project compared to the average mid season event and the workers can be broken into several groups: Ticket Sales, Dinner and Agenda arrangements, Program sales and production, special draw and the Heritage events and award. Each one of these areas keeps two or three different people hopping most the year. I would like to thank the following who gave up their time and energy to ensure success of this event. Roy Ward, Ted King, Joe Hall, Garfield McGilvray, Jim Akers, John Clark, Finn Poulstrup, Ian Ward, Brian James, Ken Adams, Trevor Moores, Bryan Day, Bob Hooper, Ken McMillan, The Georgetown Volunteer Ambulance, The Raider Hockey Club its executive and players. The Halton Hills Herald and The Independent Georgetown, Holy Cross Church, the Sponsors of our dinner and the many businessmen who supported this event by advertising in our program.

b) This dinner has grown into a true "Hockey Night" in Georgetown as we have active support from all aspects of Georgetown Hockey Community. It is unfortunate that some Georgetown teams are competing on the night of our dinner but because of the number of people playing hockey in town some are bound to be in playoffs.

c) If you have any suggestions to improve this event or wish to donate mementos or photos or other material or make a nomination for next years' "Award" please drop a note in the mail to Garfield McGilvray, Secretary Georgetown Hockey Heritage Council, 8 Guelph St. Georgetown or call me at 877-1113.

d) A special thanks to our guests of the evening the members of the 47-48 OHA Champion Georgetown Pap-

The Prez sez

Hi Hockey Fans:

The Raiders have just won their first ever league championship, in over 50 years of league play no one can ever remember the Intermediate having won the league.

I hope you will all join us The Raider Executive in congratulating the players for their excellent effort so far this season.

This week starts the playoffs and I personally think the outcome of some of the preliminary rounds will be quite an upset.

Fort Erie and Port Colborne commence playoffs on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday with the winner playing Georgetown at home on Saturday. The reason all teams made the playoffs was that no one really knew how to go about keeping Fort Erie in the league with them not travelling to the north.

It would appear after the way Fort Erie behaved this year that they should not have been granted any special consideration. Next year, we will know better.

The hockey is going to be tough and fast and my predictions are that Port Colborne will take Fort Erie for 3 games, Dundas will take Thorold in 5 games, Georgetown will take Port Colborne in 5 games, Georgetown will take Dundas in 7 games, and Collingwood in 7 games.

Why don't you try your predictions.

See you at the rink,
Bob Hooper
