Outdoor living

By Nancy Schmidt
Home economist
Do you enjoy the outdoors - hiking, cooking, camping? If so, then you'll enjoy Outdoor Living. This is a brand new 4-H Homemaking Club project being offered this spring. It is available to guys and gals who have reached their 12th birthday by May 1, 1979.
By enrolling in Outdoor Living, members will learn various methods of outdoor cooking and at the same time make up a variety of recipes. Members will equip their own survival kit as they learn about basic first aid for outdoor activities. In addition, members will develop a personal fitness program. The highlight of the project will be a day hike or overnight camp-out.

ACTON RAILROADERS

Kenny Phillips and his brothers Ricky and Bobby were on hand at the Acton library Saturday to take a look at the Acton Railroaders' Club exhibition. The kids were impressed with extensive spread put on by the club, that conjured up images of Casey Jones and other illustrious railroaders.

Lacrosse registration

Registration for Acton minor lacrosse has been going better than it did last year, according to the organizer Bob Turkosz, and this league will field two teams this year.
Mr. Turkosz said he doesn't know as yet whether the two teams, a bantam and a pee-wee group, will be playing in the West Central loop or the Kitchener Guelph loop where they played last season.

Turkosz estimated the boys would be in the arena for workouts by the middle of April. Ice does not come out of the Acton arena until April 8 this year and the floor needs time to dry.
There is one more registration day to be held, and Mr. Turkosz said that anyone still wanting to play should contact him.
