

MIME ENTERTAINS

B.C. Caspari entertained students at Howard Wrigglesworth Public School April 24 with performances in mime. The children were delighted with the show and asked all

Hole in brick wall gives thieves access to Zellers

Thieves broke into Zellers over the weekend and netted themselves in the neighbourhood of $1,000 from the store's safe.

Employees who came to the store to do some cleaning up Sunday found that a hole had been smashed through the brick wall between Zellers and Ricci's Coiffure and then a hole was cut in the safe.

"They knew exactly what they were after and they went right to it," said Sergeant Keith Robertson of the Halton Regional Police.

Since there was no sign of forced entry to the hairdressing shop it would appear that the thieves were either able to pick the lock or had a key to it, he said. Investigation of the incident is continuing.

Ireland, land of contrasts, offers visitors Irish 'odyssey'

The Emerald Isle, 2,000 miles of coastline with curving bays, white sandy beaches, rich greenery.

Last year, 300,000 Americans enjoyed the beauty of the Irish Republic, from Galway in the West to the Lakes of Killarney down South to famous Kilkenny in the East.

"American travelers to Ireland have much to discover," says Denis Hamahan, senior vice president, Aer Lingus, Irish Airlines. "and with the ease of a shared language, a simple currency system and a wide choice of accommodations, they'll find Ireland perfect vacation country." Few countries in fact offer its variety.

Americans will especially enjoy Ireland's singing pubs, mini concert halls for authentic folk singing and the telling of tall tales, and way-stations for sipping a favorite American spirit, Irish whiskey.

In fact, it was these singing pubs with their warmth and hospitality that inspired the makers of Jameson Irish Whiskey, the world's largest-selling "Irish" to develop a sweepstakes in which 15 winners will get two round-trip tickets to Ireland on Aer Lingus.

No visit to Ireland for these travelers, and the thousands of other Americans expected this year, is complete without a stop for a medieval banquet. Ancient castles at Bunratty, Knappogue and Dunguaire feature restored dungeons, "beef ryal" (eaten with the fingers) and mead, the beverage of the Middle Ages.

Gill in Sligo, and wander the highlands of Donegal through Glengesh Pass to Ardlara.

Irish people who take pride in saying, "in Ireland there are no strangers—only friends who haven't met!"
