Terrific response

He was surprised to see Credo in an article on foot care in the May issue of Chatelaine and plans to talk to the people involved with the story later.

Since he received his first shipment of Credos in November he has sold more than a thousand of them. The third shipment, which will arrive some time this month, is for 1,200 Credos.

"We had a waiting list at one point," he said. "Word spread faster than we could get them. We've hired two extra girls to work in the store so I can spend more time on the road talking to people about them."

Credos are being sold to retailers now but Mr. Fletcher is expecting to interest beauty salons in them too.
