

Sports Beat

MVPs for the eight games

Sweden '79 chairman Dave Kentner received a Swedish hockey sweater at the dinner held Monday night. Lars Persson who wears that sweater in games made the presentation.

Much is learned from Swedish trip

Continued from page 29

Kentner said, "There is a lot of good feeling between the Swedes and Georgetowners because of this trip."

There was of course some very good competition during the visit. However, Kentner said the priority of the visit from the beginning was for the culture value it would bring to both the Swedes and Georgetowners.

"The people involved got a chance to live with people who have been brought up in a completely different way," he said. "The project was very successful in exposing two groups to different lifestyles."

The project would not have been successful without the efforts of many people, who worked day and night on the project. Kentner's right hand lady on the project was Karen Harrison, the president of the Support Group, who took on many of the tough jobs.

Other members of the committee were co-chairman Fred Harrison, Ken Adams, Millie Adams, John Clark, Gloria Cull, Alex Tough, Bryan Turner, June Wilde, Phil Winer, Ian Ward, Stan Larusso and Tom and Wendy Martin.

Backed up

These people were backed up by a host of others who handled the billeting.

Just 11 days before the Swedes got here Kentner had finished work on another athletic project.

He was the man behind the scenes for the Halton Hills Athlete of the Year project. He handled most of the work, got the speakers, set up the dinner and sold most of the tickets.

Not many people have the energy to get involved in two major projects back-to-back. Dave Kentner did and it was his work in the two projects which made them, although not financially, very important to athletes in the area in that they received recognition and had a lot of fun.

Soccer games are all even

Continued from page 30

On the senior side the two teams played to a 1-1 draw in the first game last week. That game was very rough.

This week's game, played in intense heat was more mellow as the teams stuck to soccer in playing a 2-2 draw.

For more on the soccer games, read Alex Tough's column on page 35.

back this past week to even it all up by winning the match 4-2. That left the teams with eight goals each for the two teams.

The Swedish juniors are very talented and handle the ball better than the Georgetowners. However the Georgetowners play the game with more vigor and aggressiveness.

Blake Harrison, left, and Roger Larsson were selected the outstanding players in the first junior soccer game.

MVP honors in the first senior soccer game went to Grant Richardson, left, and Per Shyman.

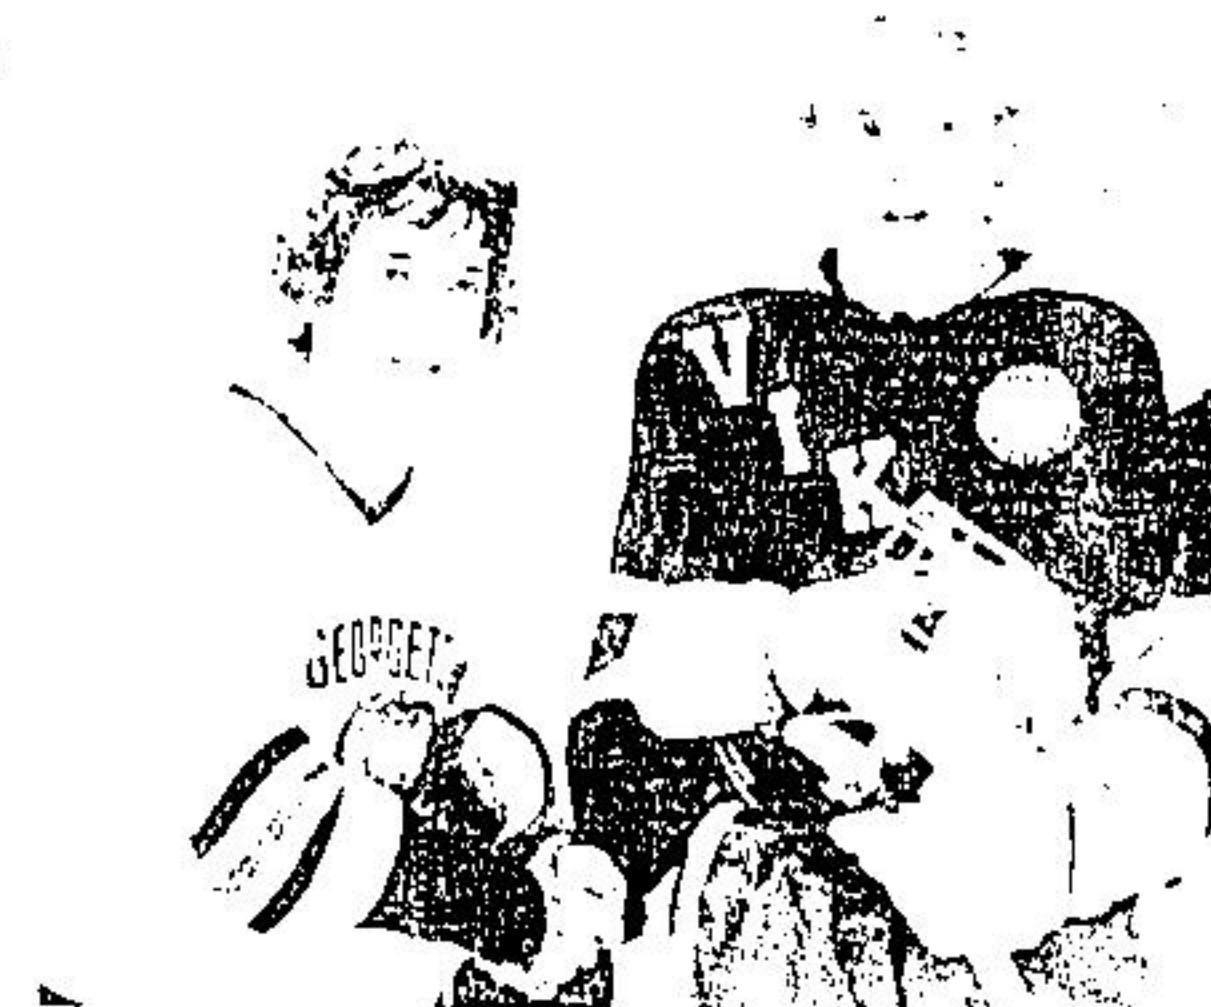

Scott Murray, left, and Jan-Erik Larsson were MVPs in the second Swedish junior soccer game.

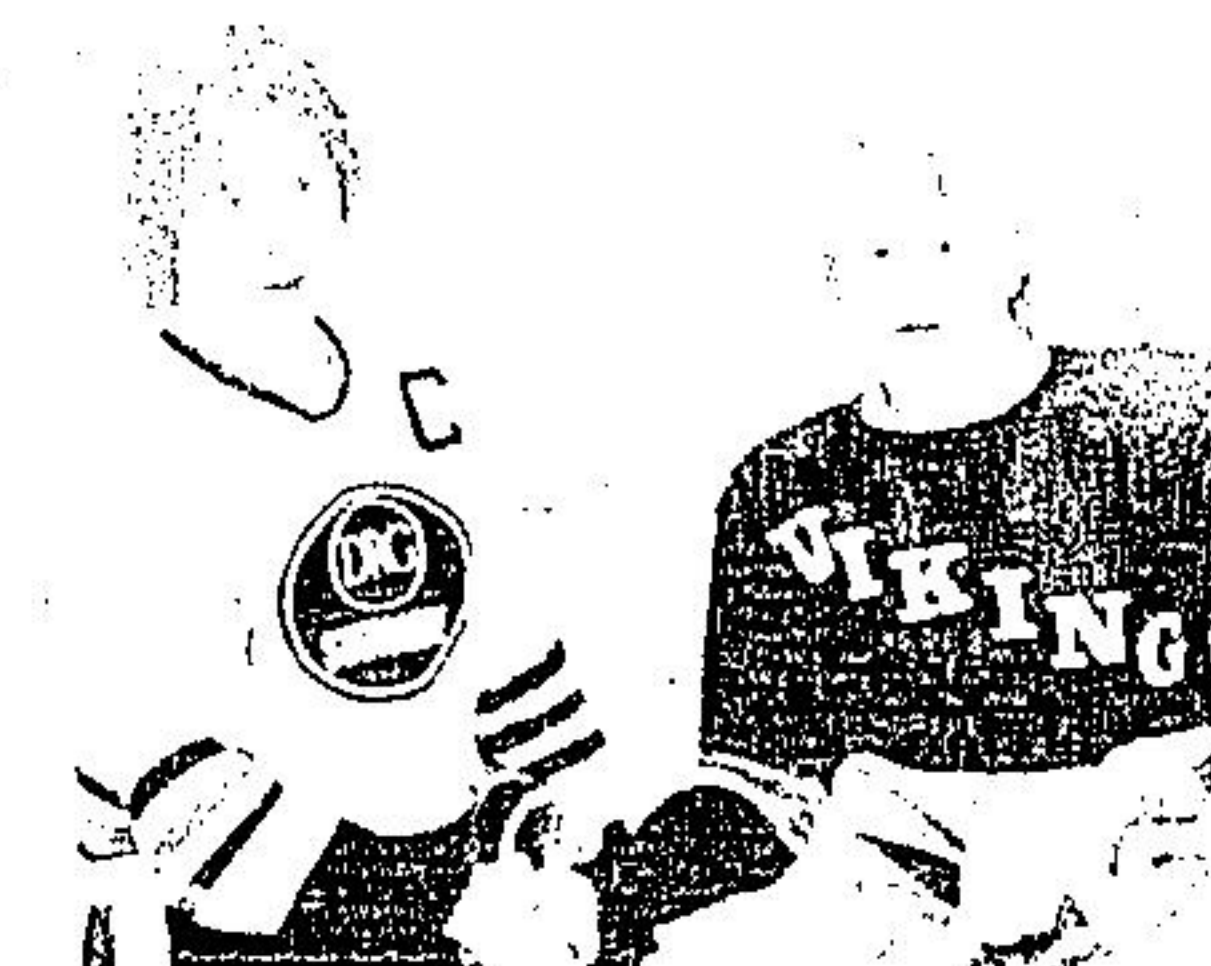

Steve Robbins, left, and Mikael Eisenblessner, took MVP honors in the second senior hockey game.

Bobby Morrow, left, and Peter Johansson took MVP honors in the first junior hockey game.

Danny Reynolds, left, and Stefan Persson were selected MVPs for the first senior hockey game.

Peter Haller, left, and Lasse Ekland were named the MVPs in the second Swedish junior soccer game.

Bill Wheeler, left, of Georgetown, and Goran Eriksson took top honors in the second senior hockey game. They are photographed after exchanging sweaters.