By ALEX TOUGH
 It will come as no surprise to regular readers of this column that I am not particularly content with the administrations of our fair metropolis. Many, many moons ago a vast number of individuals and organizations were asked to participate in providing information, ideas and proposals for "the master plan." The plan, when put together, was to be presented to those who fed the input, and others if they wanted it, for whatever purpose.
 Lo and behold! The master plan appeared as a document - ah! Not for public scrutiny, though. The plan had to be miked, changed or whatever by the administration. This, in spite of the assurance and promise of issue to public.
 Lo and behold again! The capital forecast is reported in the press - and based on "The Master Plan" duly exsurged by the administration.
 And again, lo and behold. A planning board meeting last week considered the forecast and or plan, exsurged or unexsurged.

WHAT OF PROMISE?
 What of the initial promise of issue for the public consumption? Ignored. Forgotten. Deliberately ignored and forgotten by the mayor, administration, and, in our case, the recreation department director and assistants.
 In May, for example, the mayor told me that there was, in his eyes, a need now for more soccer fields and that he would soon call a meeting of the soccer users. The meeting was to discuss current and future facilities. In spite of reminders by us, at least, the meeting is still not held. We now have to do our field lining, and bear the cost of labour and material. In spite of requests for a meeting to discuss this situation, nothing.
 The recreation department an unnecessary body in my view, has failed to deliver answers to questions on the field lining subject and is attempting to place the responsibility on the users for the 'current lack of chalk.'

The responsibility is the departments', for not having provided the answers in the first place. At the same time, the department director and his assistants have failed to deliver copies of the infamous master plan and forecast as requested, in spite of their assurances that they would be provided.
 Further, in spite of conversations and correspondence, the recreation department, administration and mayor did not even have the courtesy to advise the soccer groups of the so called "Public Presentation" of forecast and master plan at last week's planning board.
IN THE DARK
 It seems to me, and is fairly apparent, that there is an ongoing method by the administration to keep everyone in the dark, to railroad everything through without consultation and with complete disregard for anyone or any group.
 In relation to soccer and our facilities we cannot view this situation with any degree of confidence. I am certain that fellow users of recreational facilities are receiving like treatment. The remedy lies with you, taxpayers, users and voters.
 Beatrix cup soccer came to Georgetown, or rather we went to Port Colborne last weekend, and the Meteors thrashed the home team 7-1.
 Last weekend the squirrels and Atoms were again representing us in the Oakville all star select tournament. More of this later.
 This coming weekend the girls house league cup tournaments are being played in Milton, Saturday and Sunday.

Guelph 0
Valentinas 2
 At the close of this game (and Waterloo last week) our girls were saying "They were not so good as the last match". True.
 True, because the gals did not allow the opposition to play well. And this is the essence of it all. The opposition will only play as well as you allow them to play. A solid, no nonsense, display from our defense earned this victory.
 Cathy Dobson; in goal; Jill McKelvie, Lisa Allen and Vera Vanitem at the back; Kathy Webb and Lori Thorpe the defensive midfielders did not put a foot wrong in the whole game.
 Backing the front runners from midfield were Kathy Webb, who had a superb first half, Carole Johnston and Lynne Cunningham. Lynne struggled a bit and Carole put through some telling passes.

Acton 5
Mariners 2
 Acton entertained the Mariners and after some fairly even play took an early lead on a defensive mixup. This was followed by another blunder and goal within a minute.
 After 20 minutes the lads settled into a system with John Ellis, Steve Robbins and Eric Willis spreading the ball around.
 Colin Wilde and Gary Spiller were close with shots and the Acton keeper had a brilliant Parry save from a Colin Wilde blockbuster. From the ensuing right wing corner kick John Ellis sent a daisy cutter home.
 We continued to press without troubling the goalie at all. Then Acton popped home another to lead 3-1 at the half. The second half pattern continued at the first with even play and sour last second defending.
 John Bew, in the Mariner goal, had a couple of good saves, and no chance with one of my pass backs, running past the ball! So number 4 and 5 went in.
