

Optimist club cross country meet

Organizers pick off the winners during one heat of the Georgetown Optimists Club's second annual cross country race held in Cedarvale park Saturday morning. Over 300 youngsters turned up for the event.

A strong turnout of 325 public school students, from 14 schools, ran in the Optimist Club Cross Country Run Saturday morning. The second annual run, held at Cedarvale Park attracted 125 more than last year.

Centennial Public School won the junior team trophy and Stewarttown the senior team trophy. The top three finishers received trophies while those up to eighth place got ribbons.

Meet organizer John Shaw said he was pleased with the results of the 2 kilometre run, in which no times were allotted. He said the course was shortened, the day of the run, due to the bad weather, but said that officials preferred to keep the youngsters out of the rain as much as possible.

This is one of the many sports oriented events that the 70-member Optimist club sponsors each year. Others include a spring track meet, soccer skills clinic and last year included a hockey show-down.
