Lions club organizers, and Santa Claus himself, estimate that more residents lined Georgetown streets for Saturday's annual Christmas parade than ever before.

The Optimists Club took the best overall entry prize for its 'Year of the Child' float depicting a giant nursery rhyme shoe filled with youngsters.

Acton's Robert Little Public School entered the best non-commercial float, while the Kinsmen's Club had the best service club float.

Judges were Halton-Burlington MPP, Julian Reed, community organizer Rud Whiting and Ward 4 Coun. Harry Levy.

Credo Callous Remover....

TESTIMONIAL LETTER

Dear Sir,
could you please send me two Credo Callous Removers. I have one already and I sincerely think they are fantastic. My wife would like to get two more for my friends.
Thank you
