

HALTON HILLS ARTS COUNCIL

By ENID WILLIAMS
 Membership in the Halton Hills Arts Council will give the support necessary for local individuals and groups to obtain grants needed to develop the arts in Halton Hills. We offer an opportunity to help build a firm foundation in the arts which will elevate the cultural aspect of our community. Help the Arts Happen in Halton! Call Gretchen Day 877-8280 or E. Williams 877-4702 for information.

CVA offers weaving course

CREDIT VALLEY ARTISANS
 More about courses opening in January:
 Intermediate weaving is offered for eight weeks on Thursday evenings. Jackie Faubert is instructor and will explore various weaving techniques. The course will include lace weaves and other decorative weaves suitable for fashion fabric, or household items and will include use of a floor loom; students should previously have taken a beginners course. Some yarn will be supplied, but a small yarn fee will be charged. For information call Therese Scholz, 877-7124.

NORNIC STUDIO
 The children's programme in theatre arts begins its second semester January 5. The ten-week course of study will cover creative movement, speech, music appreciation, improvisation (involving mime, music and speech) and stage makeup. At the end of the semester, audition pieces will be given out for the plays to be produced at the end of the third semester in May. The philosophy of the school is established to build self-confidence, self-esteem and to introduce students to professional dramatic, musical and stagecraft techniques. A few openings still available. Registration by telephone 877-6702.

ACTON HIGH SCHOOL
 Two one-act plays, entitled Adaptations and Not Enough Rope, will be presented December 13 and 14 at Acton High School, Cedar Road off Churchhill. Doors open at 7:30 p.m.; curtain 8 p.m. Tickets 853-2920.

CRAFTS AND GIFTS
 A group of Lithuanian-descent artists of senior citizen status, based in Toronto, is showing its arts and crafts at the home of Mrs. Douglas, Fifth Line, Limehouse.

Saturday and Sunday, December 8 and 9, 15 and 16 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. These artists work sporadically during the year towards this Christmas show. Lea Douglas, who was born in Toronto of Lithuanian descent, has always maintained her heritage. Her mother was an able crafts person who encouraged her daughter to appreciate this form of art. The Lithuanian group of artists needed a person to assist with communication in both languages, and Mrs. Douglas was able to offer her services. Last year, the Christmas show was a huge success and aroused the interest of residents throughout Halton Hills. Christmas decorations, luncheon sets, tablecloths with napkins, dolls, aprons and little cone owls and gnomes will be featured. During the summer, Mrs. Douglas showed some of the artist's work in a doll house she has on her property. Herself a crafts person, Mrs. Douglas works in a Korean art form of flower arrangements out of ribbon or silk. Information 877-3991.

FORGE STUDIO GALLERY
 A "Christmas Collection" of artworks from 18 Canadian artists, including blown glass, pottery, fabrics, silver jewelry and paintings. The Forge Studio is located at Terra Cotta, Saturday and Sunday 12-5 p.m., weekdays by appointment by calling 877-5872 or 877-9669. This art show continues through to Christmas.

Watch for the Halton Hills Arts Council programme of events to be announced soon. Classical music, Robert Service readings, Cabaret and a new concept for an end of season Festival of the Arts. For information call 877-8880.

Fry Safely
 Never use a glass dish for deep fat frying. The hot grease itself won't break the dish. But if there's an accident and the dish breaks, the fat could easily catch fire.
