Local runner first

Local runner Bob Daniell and Anita Warner ran in the Metro Toronto Road Runners race at York University Sunday.

Despite the cold temperatures Warner won the women's master division over a 20 kilometre (12.4 miles) distance with a time of 98 minutes and 6 seconds.

Daniell finished second in the men's master division.

Sports Camp novices waiting

Georgetown Sports Camp Novices completed their sweep of their best of five semi-final series with Brampton scoring a 6-3 victory on home ice this week.

The game featured end-to-end action and was scoreless until midway through the first period. Travis Gardner got things started for the locals when he banged in a rebound from the edge of the crease, after Jason Knight and Jeremy Felce had combined for the original shot.

Knight made it 2-0 for Georgetown, shortly after, on a pass from Gardner, before Brampton cut the margin to 2-1. Andrew Hoddinott caught up to a breakaway pass from Adam Bennett and scored a pretty goal. Kevin Roe connected, unassisted, to make it 4-1 Georgetown before the end of the second period.

Brampton fought back in the third to cut the margin to 4-3 before Gardner connected for his second goal of the game on a play set up by Hoddinott and Bennett. Mark Lorito rounded out the scoring as his long shot found the empty net to eliminate Brampton from play-off contention.

Georgetown will move on to the Tri-County Novice finals against the winner of Chinguacousy and Burlington semi-final.
