Branch 120: a record of sports involvement

Legion sports involvement in Georgetown dates back many years to the founding of Branch 120 in 1928. Over the years sports including curling, hockey, baseball and soccer have benefitted from the interest the local veterans have had in the development of the area's youth.

Early in February of this year the branch was recognized for its efforts in minor hockey. The Georgetown Hockey Heritage Council selected the Legion for its more than 25 years of sponsorship of the first organized

Saturday morning hockey. Plaudits from the Provincial Commander, the people of the community, former Prime Minister Joe Clark, Premier Bill Davis, the local Militia and many others were hurled upon President Harold Badham.

A local ladies intermediate fastball team, the Royalettes, is sponsored by this branch. They give the team all the financial help they can use and are well respected by the ladies involved.

Another sports project the Legion here are involved in, is the annual charity baseball game in aid of the North Halton Mentally Retarded Association. For many years the members entered a team along with the police, town, post office and several other community-minded groups. Although this is no longer the case, they do continue to match dollar-for-dollar the amount of money raised.

These are just a few of the typical sports related endeavors undertaken by Branch 120.
