Champs little known

Beamsville is about 50 miles away from Georgetown. It is a small community of 4,700 people located somewhere between St. Catharines and Hamilton.

One member of the bantam tournament championship team says of it, "if you blink you miss it but, they sure can play hockey."

Another member of the same team said "all the big places have won it (the grand champions), Detroit, Toronto, Hamilton and now Beamsville. We're right up there."

The sentiments of the winning team from Beamsville were obvious. They came to play some hockey, win a few games and leave Georgetown, as their coach says, "with a good attitude about the team." And they certainly did that.

As the underdogs in the semis and the finals, the team without the awesome talent of some of the other teams who played all week, came out with an outstanding team effort to win it all. They were clearly the crowd favorites in the final game.

There were several groans after the team had taken an early 3-0 lead in the game only to see it whittled down and eventually have the score tied with three seconds left to play, to force the five minute total goal overtime. They won that three goals to none.

This was the team's second tournament championship in just over a month. Early in February the team won in Schomberg.

Beamsville plays in the Niagara Peninsula league where their opponents are teams as AA to DD. They finished the regular season in ninth spot. However they won the B division they are rated in and next week play Thoro, the A division winners, for the league championship.

The six wins and one tie the team had in international leaves them undefeated in their last 15 outings.

For posterity

Dave Kentner of the Hockey Heritage Council presents a commemorative plaque to bantam hockey tournament chairman Don Jarvie which recognizes the efforts of all the people who have helped put on the international tourney over the past 20 years. The presentation was made prior to last Tuesday evening's Georgetown DRG Stationary game. Kentner was assisted by Pat Patterson and Jarvie got a hand from Al Martin.

Individual award winners selected

Beamsville picked up two of the three main individual awards in the tournament. They had Terry Butryn win Henry's Clothing trophy as the most valuable player and Kent Greenlees picked up the Georgetown referees trophy as the outstanding goaltender.

Darren Burford was named the most sportsmanlike player and received the Red and Jean Asseline trophy.

Two tournament championships in two days for atoms

While most local hockey teams who entered March break tournaments were trying to win a few games and possibly the overall championship, the atom selects won two of them in as many days.

Friday the little lads won it all in Schomberg, then did the same thing in Streetsville the next day. The team didn't lose a game in either outing.

On their way to their first grand championship, the team won 8-0 over Port Perry, 6-0 over Oakville and 3-1 over Chinguacousy.

Scoring for the atoms against Port Perry were Robbie Cooper, Alain Shields and Mike Ross with two, and singles to Mark Hillier, and Jason Bew. Assisting them were Craig Nicolucci, Sean Finn, Richard Percival, Mike Webster, Daryl Young, Cooper and Bew.

Against Oakville Alain Dumouchel and Finn led the team with a pair of goals. Singles went to Cooper and Kevin Lindberg. Getting the assists on those goals were Cooper, Nicolucci, Ross, Bew, Percival and Dumouchel. Chinguacousy went down on goals by Dumouchel, Ross and Bew. Aiding them were Cooper, Nicolucci, Lindberg, Hillier, Bew and Ross.

WIN NUMBER TWO
Saturday in Streetsville the championship was wrapped up in two games. Orangeville was the first win for the Georgetown team. They lost 4-2. Nicolucci, Ross, Lindberg and Dumouchel. Assists went to Cooper, Bew, Nicolucci and Terry Paddle. The atoms' final win of the weekend came against the host Streetsville team. They won 6-3. The Georgetown scorers were Ross with three, Nicolucci, Cooper, and Lindberg. Assists went to Cooper, Ross, Lindberg, Nicolucci, Dumouchel, Chapman, and Percival.

Other players on the team, not figuring in the scoring statistics, are goaltenders
