Guy Tse

Yong's restaurant at 109 Main Street South is owned by Guy Tse. Mr. Tse is originally from the Caribbean area and has been living in Canada for the last eight years.

When he first moved here, he lived in Toronto for a year and then moved to Georgetown to open Yong's, his first restaurant.

Mr. Tse says that "combination plates" are the restaurant's specialty. Combination plates range from $2.75 to $4.25 and include a wide variety of dishes. For those who like Chinese food these plates allow you to sample many dishes at a reasonably inexpensive price.

The restaurant also sells North American food and has a take out service and delivery. There is a ten per cent discount for those picking up orders over $9.00.

Mr. Tse employs seven people full-time and part-time. He and his family live over the restaurant on Main Street.

STEP-RITE SHOES

Florence Flurry

Florence Flurry manages the newest women's shoe store on Main Street, Step-Rite Shoes.

Florence has been involved in the retail end of the shoe business for some time and says she is quite pleased with the opportunity Step-Rite presents her as a manager.

"The store offers a full line of women's comfort and fashion shoes and will try to cater to people with irregular foot sizes and different widths as well as those with normal sizes," Florence says.

Naturalizer, a well known brand of ladies' comfort dress shoes, is one of the lines carried. Florence claims these shoes, made in Perth, Ontario, "fit like a slipper."

"We were very lucky to get a franchise for the line because they aren't given to just anyone," she noted.

SYKES BAKERY

Phil Sykes

Phil Sykes has been working at his family's Sykes Bakery off and on since he was a child. Phil has operated the store on Main Street for the last two years ever since he quit music professionally.

The store has been on Main Street for the last ten years and was located on Mill Street before that for eight years.

The store offers a full line of baked goods from 100 per cent whole wheat bread to meat pies to cakes.

"We also do custom decorating for birthday cakes and wedding cakes. We generally like to have a few weeks notice for cakes," Phil says.

One of the items that sell the best, homemade breads and meat pies, Phil says that homemade bread "is what we built our business on."

Donuts in the store come from Sykes Super Donuts on Guelph Street.

The store also sells light lunches which consist of soups and sandwiches.

The Sykes live on Stevens Crescent where Phil indulges in his other hobby of furniture making.
