Guides, Pathfinders visit candy factory

By BARB HADDON
In the past month, the 1st Limehouse Guides and Pathfinders have been busy working on badges and preparing for summer camp.

They have recently participated in a trip to the candy factory in Rockwood. A great time was enjoyed by all at 'Shneider's Reliable Sweets'. The girls learned how sponge taffy was made, along with some Easter items, and sampled many different varieties of candy. Many thanks to the proprietor for a much enjoyed tour.

The 1st Limehouse Brownies are looking forward to two upcoming events in April. Dr. Greenglass and his assistant Jan will be talking to the brownies and guides about proper dental care, and preparations are being made for a brownie revel. In order to raise funds for the revel, the Brownies will have a white elephant and bake sale, and arrangements are being made for the place and date of this event.

I would like to make a correction in two names of the new Brownie list: Lydia Hollis and Kelly Trant.

The monthly meeting of the Limehouse L.A. was held at the home of Marnie Willis March 24. Future events were discussed and the following dates were set: the bottle drive

April 26 (any glass jars or bottles would be appreciated); the bake sale and bazaar April 12 at Limehouse Memorial hall from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.; and the Mother and Daughter banquet tentatively for May 1.

The next meeting will be held April 21 at the home of Barb Case. All Brownie, Guide and Pathfinder mothers are welcome.

'Trees for Canada' project on again

North Halton District Scouts, Canada, which include cubs and scouts from Acton, Ballinacree, Limehouse, Georgetown, Norval and Glen Williams, are once again holding their annual "Trees for Canada" project. The 450 boys in the District will be planting 12,000 trees April 26.

On April 7, the scouts and cubs will start canvassing to recruit sponsors for the 25 trees that each boy will plant. The Scouting movement appreciates the continued support of the community in this project.

"Trees for Canada" is a Canada-wide project designed to give all Scouts the opportunity to demonstrate through action their concern for their country. Three million trees will be planted this year.

"Trees for Canada" is a fund-raising project. Most of the funds raised through this project stay in the community to help further Scouting at all levels from Beavers right through to Rovers. Some of the money goes to International Brotherhood program, "Operation Amigo" a program designed to help five South American countries adopt scouting to their needs.

This year the planting will take place with the co-operation of the Credit Valley Conservation Authority, in Georgetown and Caledon. This needed reforestation will provide wildlife inhabitants with food and shelter. Trees for Canada is a project concerned with tomorrow, the trees planted this year will reach maturity when the Scouts who planted these trees have children of their own. A tomorrow which will be better because our community supported Scouts in this project today.

Region's 1980 budget up 18 per cent

Decision delayed

A potential increase of 18 per cent in the Halton regional levy over last year has convinced the region's administration and finance committee to hold off any final decisions on the 1980 operating budget.

Ernie Reid, the region's chief administrative officer, was directed by the committee last Wednesday to come to the next meeting with recommendations for substantial cuts in budgets already approved by the region's standing committees.

The 1980 operating budget was scheduled to go to regional council today (Wednesday) for approval, but will now be delayed until April 16.

One of the concerns expressed at last week's committee meeting by Halton Hills Mayor Pete Pomeroy involved the potential impact of equalized assessment.

Introduced by the province, the equalized assessment program is used as criteria for apportioning shared costs among the four municipalities.

Mayor Pomeroy said he was unwilling to make any budget decisions before he knew the impact on Halton Hills' property taxpayers, since it was expected that Milton and Halton Hills would face an increase.

When contacted Tuesday morning, regional treasurer Don Farmer said he had just received the percentages from the province, but did not have the dollar figures yet.

"The proportion for Halton Hills will be almost the same as in 1979," Mr. Farmer told The Herald.

"Under the old system," Mr. Farmer added, "Halton Hills' share would have dropped to 11.48 per cent."

Milton's share will rise from 9.90 per cent in 1979 to 11.1 per cent in 1980.

Burlington will see a substantial drop, going from 44.06 per cent in 1979 to 41.1063 in 1980.

Oakville will face an increase, going from 33.06 per cent in 1979 to 34.36 per cent in 1980.

Had the budget been approved as it stood last week, regional levies would have increased by $2.2 million over the $12.3 collected in 1979.

Town rejects tax resolution

Town council has unanimously refused to endorse a resolution from North York council demanding that Ontario Premier William Davis live up to his campaign promises of 1977 and do something in the provincial budget to relieve the tax burden on senior citizens.

Mayor Pete Pomeroy was so distressed Monday night at what he termed the "strong political implications" of the recommendation that he called for a recorded vote.

The resolution called upon other councils to "demand that Premier Davis live up to his election promises", that the endorsements be forwarded to Premier Davis in time to be implemented for the 1980 budget and that "if the Conservative budget does not include the provisions in Mayor Mel Lastman's motion, this council express lack of confidence in the provincial government".

Mayor Pomeroy said municipalities could use existing methods to help their own senior citizens if they want to do so and said he totally disagrees with the idea of threatening the provincial government.
