

About the Hills

No refugees for Acton

The family of Southeast Asian refugees expected by members of Acton's Bethel Christian Reformed Church and a second sponsor group won't be arriving after all. Rev. John Cooper, spokesman for the two organizations, says immigration sources informed him that the family they expected met a relative at the airport and went with him. They have, however, promised the group a family consisting of a father, mother, and three children who will be arriving in Edmonton April 17.

Employment Centre opening

A Canada Employment Centre for students opens in Georgetown Monday at 232-A Guelph St., Unit 5. One of more than a hundred such centres across the province, the office will be staffed by recent university and college graduates and will assist students finding summer employment. Further information is available from centre supervisor Erika Harper at 451-8330.

Police legal bill vetoed

Halton regional council has turned down a request from the Halton Regional Police Association seeking assistance for two officers facing a legal bill of $8,500 for defending themselves against allegations of mistreatment by 12 inmates being transported from Milton to Toronto in August, 1978. Because they were cleared, the police association feels that the municipality has a "moral obligation to assist these officers".

PWP Spring party

Parents Without Partners will be holding a Spring Fever Party April 12 at 8 p.m. in the hope of boosting membership and sharing fun among existing members. Ladies will be asked to wear flowers in their hair, while men should wear their favorite summer hat. For more information, interested people may phone Glenda at 877-8402 in the evenings.

Widows' Pot luck supper

The Community Contact for Widows met March 29 for a pot luck supper at the home of Kay Hill. A most enjoyable evening was spent playing cards and fortune telling. The next meeting will be April 17, an evening out to the Lester B. Pearson Theatre to see "Guys and Dolls". Widows interested in contacting the group, call 877-7613 or 4415, evenings.

Shapley and Marg Beaumont, Men's Mystery - Richard Malby, Door Prize - Mary Robertson. The Opti-Mrs. would like to thank all those people who came out to make it an evening of fun. We hope you enjoyed yourselves.

Police contract talks breakdown

An arbitrator has still not been appointed yet to settle the contract dispute between Halton's 263-man police force and the Halton Police Commission, according to the president of the Halton Police Association.

"No one has been appointed yet," Constable Bill Gall told The Herald Monday. "We still have to wait for the report from the conciliator, which we are expecting any day now."

Talks between the association and commission broke down last week after a 10-hour conciliation meeting on Tuesday failed to bring any agreement.

Halton's uniformed officers and 84 civilian personnel have been without a contract since December 31, 1979.

Last year's contract settlement made the Halton force one of the highest paid in the province, with a first-class constable earning $21,714.

According to Constable Gall, this is only the second time the police association and the commission have been unable to reach agreement through negotiations.

The last dispute to go to arbitration occurred in 1974, when the region and its police force were first formed.

McClure on Iran

Former United Church moderator Dr. Robert McClure was quoted in the Toronto Sun Sunday recommending that the United States round up all illegal Iranian immigrants and put them in detention centres staffed by relatives of the American hostages in Iran. Dr. McClure, who recently addressed a meeting in Georgetown, said the Iranians are not afraid to die for their cause so the only method which might help ensure the return of the hostages is bargaining with them. Dr. McClure was a field director for the Red Cross in central China during the Sino-Japanese conflict, and he also worked at the mission hospital in Batlam in central India before becoming moderator of the United Church in 1968.

Simple Justice

This is now the law.

Know your rights. Consider your options.

The new Provincial Offences Act introduces a new form of law designed especially for minor offences such as traffic, liquor, hunting and fishing violations. The new system is simple, informal and convenient, and offers anyone charged with a minor offence a new choice for handling his or her case. But you have to act. It's up to you.

For further information, pamphlets are available at Supermarkets and Provincial Court offices, or write: Provincial Offences, Queen's Park, Toronto.
