Limehouse W.I. met at the Limehouse Memorial Hall, Thursday evening. Although several were away on tours, 12 attended.

President Anderson read 'Just walk beside me and be my friend', and we sang 'The more we get together' and repeated the Collect in opening.

Each member turned in a snapshot of herself as a school child for identification by the others. Some of us have sure changed over the years. Baking was requested by Manor residents for their craft sale May 14 to raise funds for their supplies.

Scouter Mrs. Hannah reported the boys had been busy recently. Fifteen had passed their first aid course and 26 shopping bags of garbage had been collected along 22 Side-road by the boys.

On weekends the boys have been earning a large sum by clearing an estate in Erin to provide funds for the trip to the Canadian Jamboree in Alberta in 1981. Mrs. Hannah explained the Trees for Canada program when area Cubs planted 8,000 trees.

Browns were pleased with their glass collection and the newspaper collection was successful a couple of weeks ago. The Guides sold cookies a week ago.

The W.I. president and secretary were invited to the father and son banquet May 12. Mesdames Booth, Cannon and Hannah were appointed delegates to District Annual May 15.

Plans were made for catering lunches at an upcoming auction sale May 31.

Canada Day was discussed and Mrs. Moulden will again convene events.

Miss Brigham talked about the motto 'Every privilege carries responsibility' and Mrs. Hannah related current events.

A number signed cards supporting a petition promoted by the manager of Canadian Tire store in Georgetown towards a 'no' vote in Quebec's referendum.

Convenors of standing committees gave their two-minute reports.

Convenor of Cultural activities, Mrs. A.J. Benton gave a lengthy list of answers to questions in law, including choosing of jurors, their duties and our duties, as citizens, to vote, pay taxes, give aid if requested by a policeman or fireman, to stop if first at an accident, but this requires caution, and we have the right to a fair trial and to move and speak freely.

She also warned of safeguards when shopping and accurate labelling of products and advised contacting Better Business Bureau at 555 Yonge St., Toronto with complaints.

We sang 'O Master, Let Me Walk With Thee' in closing.

Mrs. Anderson served a tasty lunch afterwards.

Euchre convenor Mrs. A.J. Benton wishes to thank Master Feeds for the two shrubs they donated as prizes for the marathon euchre and W.I. members for the others and for lunch provisions.

Euchres are likely to resume in the fall.

Mrs. F.T.C. Brown has consented to let her name stand as W.I. Tweedsmuir historian, as Mrs. A.W. Benton's six years as historian are completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest McEnery invited the singing quartet (who participated in the anniversary service on Sunday) and their wives to their home to spend some time with them and stay for the evening meal. They had a grand time of fellowship together.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse McEnery have moved into their new home in Acton. They will be surrounded by many friends and are looking forward to living in their new environment.

Shortill had not been awakened by the smell of smoke, which was seeping upstairs to the basement.

Viola quickly aroused other members of the family who were sleeping. Fortunately they were all unharmed. The fire originated in the basement and the cause is being investigated. There was considerable smoke damage. Clean-up operations began immediately, but the store will be closed for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Cooke and son Stephen with their friends Mr. and Mrs. Whitham, from Harrison paid their annual visit to renew acquaintances in the neighborhood on Sunday. They had a brief visit to the Smith farm before going on to visit other friends.

Ballinafad

Church celebrates 102nd anniversary

By WINIFRED SMITH
Herald correspondent
The weather was perfect, resulting in a fairly good crowd of worshippers out to the 102nd anniversary services at Ballinafad church on Sunday.

A quartet calling themselves, 'Three Plus One', whose home is near Elora, were most generous with their musical selections, as they sang a few inspiring numbers prior to the service and two during the service. They were a joy to listen to.

Mr. Stiles was present to introduce the guest speaker, Rev. Jeff Davison, pastor of the Grand Valley United Church.

He first had a story for the children, which all listened to with great interest. Mr. Davison had a great message for anniversary Sunday. He said, "Although we honor those gone before us, we living now, in the present time must work together with the youth of today, that some of their viewpoints and ideas were good."

Donation of flowers celebrates CWL Week

HERALD SPECIAL
Catholic Women's League meeting opened with a prayer by Father Oiger Devant.

Three women volunteered to make Red Cross working aprons.

Father Doran of Volunteers International Christian Service and Mrs. Barnes of Georgetown were special guests.

Father Doran showed slides and spoke of the people he had met through mission work. His message for the ladies was to look beyond a person's color and clothing and get to know the inner person.

To celebrate CWL Week, flowers were given to each patient in Georgetown and District Memorial Hospital.

The CWL Convention will be held at the Holiday Inn, Hamilton, June 7, 8 and 9.

The newly-elected executive for 1980-81 is - President - Helen Callaghan, 1st vice-president - Sr.ima Van Hocklen, 2nd vice president - Pauline Miller, 3rd vice president - Julie Varichio, secretary - Trudy Edwards, treasurer - Marg Willis.

CWL Mass was offered by Father Devant March 22 for the unborn and installation of officers.

There will be a pot luck dinner May 19 at 7 p.m. in Holy Cross auditorium. Special guests from Hamilton district council will be Helen Chisholm and Monica McCall.

A CENTURY YOUNG

Pipe band to hold fund-raising dance

Legion Lines

By Roma Timpson

Here is an evening you won't want to miss: our Pipe Band is holding a fund-raising dance May 23. This dance will begin at 8:30 and you will be able to enjoy yourself until 1 a.m. There will be a DJ, but I haven't heard at this time just who it will be.

Tickets are $10 a couple and I wouldn't be surprised if the pipers and drummers will give all of you a treat by playing for you. You may purchase your tickets from any of our Pipe Band members and there will only be so many tickets so be sure to get yours early to avoid being disappointed.

My good friend, Bob Dunn, is in hospital along with many other good friends from the Legion, so do look on our sick board and see who is in and perhaps on these great spring evenings you could walk over to the hospital and visit for a few minutes. They would appreciate being remembered.

Wilson's celebrate 55th anniversary

By Mrs. JOHN BELLBODDY
Well, April has gone and it was a wet and a cool one, let's hope that the month of May will prove to be merry with a promise of warm days and spring bursting with flowers blooming, blue skies and lots of sunshine is the hope of everyone.

One Sunday morning recently John McPhail was presented with the high Scout's badge from the leader of the Rovers Bob Gracey. John has worked hard as a Scout and now is going on to become a Venturer. Good luck in the future to him.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Wilson have returned home from a two weeks' visit in Burleson, Texas, with their daughter and family Mr. and Mrs. Fred Williamson and their great grandson born April 29. They will also celebrate their 55th wedding anniversary May 29. Congratulations to them.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wingfield and family enjoyed a two weeks' trip in the sunny south.

On Sunday morning, April 27, the eleventh anniversary of Hillcrest Church was observed. At this service, Frank Ruddle and Bob Cunningham were recognized as Honorary Life Elders for their years of work and dedication, especially in the old Ashgrove church. Congratulations to them.

Don't forget May 11 is Mother's Day. She becomes the first lady of the world on the second Sunday in May. That day is dedicated to the memory of the best Mother in the world - Yours!

We have a general meeting this month at which time nominations will be taken for your executive and three top officer positions. You can mull it over during the next few weeks just who in YOUR opinion will serve best as president, 1st and 2nd vice presidents and four executive members for the coming month of June, 1980, to June, 1981. We have close to 500 members. Plenty to choose from. So, please, give it a lot of thought, come to the general meeting May 22, make your nomination and when election day rolls around, BE SURE TO BE OUT AND VOTE.

Our elections are Sunday, June 1, and of the almost 500 members, your present executive and officers would like to see at least 200 in our auditorium. (Aren't I the dreamer?) Nothing is impossible.

Busy time for the Auxiliary these next few months. Call Jan Emmerson and offer your help if you haven't been contacted. It seems to be the same faces that show up all the time. We do have over 200 members in the Auxiliary and working and serving is our first priority before the social and sports events are considered. Jan's number is 877-4165 (after 5, please). The car club has begun again, folks. There will be several weeks of winners next week to get every thing caught up and then once weekly thereafter.

Georgetown Air Cadets hold annual inspection

This Monday's annual inspection and presentation of awards to the members of Georgetown's 756 R.C. Air Cadet Squadron will be conducted by Major Kurt Theoret, C.D.

Major Theoret will be on hand for the 7:30 p.m. ceremony at Georgetown Memorial Arena, installing the young cadets with confidence in their positions and duties and ambition for their future aspirations.

The major, a Sudbury native, joined the Royal Canadian Air Force in early 1961, and was commissioned flying officer (navigator) the following year. He has served with Air Transport Command, Maritime Air Command, Air Defence Command and the Maritime Air Group.

Major Theoret graduated last year from the Collège Militaire Royale de Saint-Jean in Quebec with a Bachelor of Administration degree and is currently attending Canadian Forces Command and Staff College in Toronto.

He has been posted to Helicopter Antisubmarine Warfare Squadron 443 in Shearwater, Nova Scotia.

TORY EXECUTIVE

The Halton-Burlington Progressive Conservative Association elected its 1980 executive Thursday at its annual meeting held at Georgetown's North Halton Golf and Country Club. From left: Harry Shore, treasurer, Janice Johnston, second vice-president, Jack Bellegem, president, Irene Saunders, secretary and Archi Cooper, first vice-president. Area directors for the year will be Acton, Brian Cargill; Burlington, Ken MacDonald; Georgetown, Ab Tennant; Milton, Ken Hazard; and Nassagaweya, Roy Woods. Directors at large are: Ted Meitz, John McArthur, Vince Whelan and Pam Sheldon.

Delegates to the annual convention in June will be Jack Bellegem, Brian Cargill, Fran Bates, Pam Sheldon, Irene Saunders, John McArthur, and Dick Howitt, as well as two members of the Young Progressive Conservative Association to be chosen at a later date. Alternates will be Graham Gorbelle, Cindy Gray and Marie Sheehy. Industry and tourism minister, Larry Grossman was expected to be the guest speaker but due to an expected non-confidence vote in the legislature Thursday evening, he was unable to attend. 1922 PHOTOGRAPH

Emily Bessey presented a photograph of the 1922 Georgetown Businessmen's Association to Halton Hills chief librarian Betsy Cornwell to hang in the new library. The photograph, which was taken at the group's first annual picnic at Eldorado Park, will hang at Summerfest to give people a chance to identify some of the people in the photograph who remain unknown.
