

Whole town's heading 'Back-to-Acton'

Herald Special
Plans for the annual Back-to-Acton Days celebration are off to a flying start, according to chairman Terry Grubbe.
Mrs. Grubbe said last week that representatives of 10 organizations, interest groups and businesses turned up Wednesday to attend the first organizational meeting.
Many participants have already prepared plans or ideas. Activities are planned to cover the three-day event June 27 to 29 but there is still a need for more participation, Mrs. Grubbe said.
Booths and sidewalk sales will kick off the event during the morning of June 27. Official opening will be at 7 p.m. Friday and entertainment is expected to last through to about 10 p.m.
Details on the entertainment are not final, however, the Acton Chorale will definitely be part of the entertainment package, Mrs. Grubbe said.
Saturday events will start with a health hustle at the Y at 9:30 a.m. A cellophane parade has been suggested with three formation points meeting at Mill Street.
Pony rides, a baseball tournament, a barbecue and an Optimist Club dance at the arena will highlight Saturday activities.
Sunday will see a fishing derby, a barbecue and more baseball ending with a dusk fireworks display.
Mrs. Grubbe, Sally Smith, Jake Kulken and Paul Nelsen are handling the organizing chores.
"We need three weeks notice at least to get things into the flyers," Mrs. Grubbe urged would-be participants. "And pray for sun. We got rained out last year."

Be safe in the water

Every year more than 900 Canadians drown, many of them children. Drowning is the third leading cause of accidental deaths in Canada.
Water Safety Week - June 1 to 7 - is an appropriate time to think about those statistics and what you can do to safeguard your family against drowning.
The Canadian Red Cross Society recommends learning to swim as an important defense against drowning. The ability to swim can reduce a potentially-dangerous accident to a minor mishap or slip.
But knowing how to swim is only the beginning. Every year many individuals who believe they are good swimmers drown or injure themselves because they did not know or ignored simple safety procedures.
No matter where you and your family go to swim or relax, there are several simple rules that go a long way in the prevention of drowning or injury:
- Swim in supervised areas. If that is impossible, swim in a place that you know is safe and has been thoroughly checked for dangerous rocks, currents, drop offs, etc.
- Always watch your small children when you are near water, whether it's the ocean, a lake, pool, creek or puddle. Even after small children learn to swim, they must still be supervised at all times.
- Always swim with someone else, never alone. When tired or over-heated, stay out of the water.
- Swim in daylight when you can see and be seen.
- Exercise caution before diving by making sure the water is deep enough and hazard-free.
- Don't allow non-swimmers to use inner tubes or inflatable supports. False confidence in these supports could cost their lives.
- If someone falls into the water, don't jump in. Use a reaching, throwing or floating assist such as a paddle, towel or a rescue line with a float attached.
- Know how to administer rescue breathing (artificial respiration). Make sure every member of your family knows this simple method of resuscitation that has saved thousands of lives.
Don't become a statistic - a deadly statistic - this summer. Make water safety a part of your family plans.
