

Norval had a fine time May 26

By JANETHODGE

The Queen's birthday celebrations May 26 were held under beautiful sunny skies and enjoyed by all.

The parade was again a highlight, with two Georgetown Girl's Pipe Band members leading, followed by MPP Julian Reed, Mayor Pete Pomeroy and Coun. Pat Patterson, then Norval Scouts, Cubs, Brownies, many boys and girls who decorated bicycles and dressed for the occasion, plus floats, boats and crazy beds.

We also had our own clowns, Randy Fendley, Russ Tooze and Matt Hedley, who tossed candies to the crowd as it wound up Highway 7 up Draper Street and into the Community Centre grounds. Our clowns did a magnificent job all day long entertaining the young and dancing with the elderly to the fine music of Iva Davidson on the piano, Bob Armstrong on the guitar and Archie Fuller on the violin.

While the judges, Percy Donaldson and Rose Ellison were determining a winner for the "best dressed bed and team", Valerie Cunningham and Tracy Porter gave us a splendid exhibition on the bagpipes. We thank them for joining and leading our parade this year.

The judges then announced the bed "East of the River" with Robert Taylor at the steering wheel, his co-pilot Brian Coe with Randy Fendley and George Campbell supplying the engine power, were the winners of the Crazy Bed Trophy.

The Crazy Bed race was then run up Draper Street and up to the centre with the "Queen's Bed" comprised of Colin Davenport Jr. at the wheel and his co-pilot Christine Davenport, Colin Sr., Paul Davenport and Derek McCray from Brampton providing the muscle power to push it over the finish line first and win the Crazy Bed Trophy. Each of the winners were presented with medals from Mayor Pomeroy.

Joe Gombaze, Judy Pomeroy and Mayor Pomeroy with helpers provided games and races for people of all ages.

The "Norval Teen Baseball" played against a team "West of the Credit" and beating them 8-7 in five innings.

Ken Robinson and John Thomas judged a log sawing contest with Bob Lamoureux and partner reigning as champs for 1980.

Lois Fendley ran a very successful 50-50 draw with $611 going to Toby Cunningham of Malton the winner.

The booth under Bud and Joan Carter, Les and Mary Bond and many helpers provided hamburgers, hot dogs, home made pies, coffee, tea, pop and donuts to the hundreds who patronized the booth all day long.

Bob Hedley, Randy Fendley, Charlie Carney and many others from Draper Street - we thank you for the splendid fireworks display to wind up a fun day for all who attended.

The Norval baseball season is now in full swing with 12 teams playing throughout the week for all ages, even for Mom's and Dad's.

The Norval club held its final euchre May 15 with 10 tables taking part. The high lady for the evening went to Loran Jaggart with 102. Second high Ethel Brownridge, 101.

The high man was won by Eric Maltby with the season's high of 107, second to Martha Richardson at 98. The most lone hands prize went to Phil Lenby who was tied with Allan Wilson.

Jamie Cunningham made a special plaque presentation to Ethel and Keith Webb of Webb's Greenhouse from the euchre club for their thoughtfulness and generosity over the past year in donating beautiful plants for our euchre throughout the winter as a lucky door prize.

When it came time for the lucky door prize for the evening, the tables were turned around and a beautiful card was signed by all present and a beautiful plant was presented to Marlene and Jamie Cunningham for their efforts in running the bi-monthly euchres during the winter months. Thank you, Marlene and Jamie.

Jamie thanked all for supporting the Norval euchres and hoped they would all be back in the fall.

He expressed thanks to all who donated lunch from time to time and to all who helped setting up for the euchres. Also to Elsie Jarvie and Elizabeth Castle for taking over and running the euchres while he was nursing a bad back also to Shirley and Marilu Dairs and his wife Marlene, for their part in running the euchres this past year.
