Ottawa River.

years ago.

Earlier in the semester, the group had studied some of the original fur trade routes

Dressed in their self-tailored leather "courier de bols'

outfits, the students took two weeks to paddle the route, often having to portage 500-pound canoes around rapids.

The canoes, except for two aluminum freight canoes

brought along to hold camping gear, were fibre glass replicas of voyageur canoes used 400 along the way were good-natured. The group tired of the diet of oalmeal, Red-River cereal, prunes and other high-

The weather was also bad

while the trek began under seasonal conditions, the group spent much of the time in rain and bitterly cold tempera-

Teacher Bill Taylor, who accompanied Dr. Tamblyn

and the students on the trip,

admitted that many students

became ill as the trek neared its end. However, none of the students wished to quit until

Both students and staff

agreed that they had not only shared a number of unusual adventures but also a unique

Rotary exchange student Peter Wetklo of Frankfurt,

West Germany, emotionally

thanked his fellow group members and the audience for the opportunity to have participated in the immersion

Mr. Tamblyn told the parents in the audience that the relationship between the students and staff during the program had "taken a little bit

Tambiyn was warmly hugged by the immersion group as the presentation neared an end.

them from you." Mr

Last week's presentation adventures undertaken by the Planning for a winter camping trip to Killarney last January was extensive. Students split themselves into four food groups to organize meals, studies were made to evaluate the warmth of sleeping bags and courses were given in cross-country skiing aid courses, including instruction on how to treat hypothermia, a condition in which the body temperature drops to

The total immersion group

spent most of its time honing winter survival skills, cutting wood and hiking to points.

around the camp. Again, the only complaints against the trip were good-natured: bad

The group also spent two weeks at the Toronto Sportsman show in February learning how to build a log cabin. In March, the students participated in a sugaring-off operation, learning the finer points of making maple syrup.

were required to climb up-and

"rapelle" down a 70-foot sheer rock face at Rattlesnake Point near Milton. Recalling the adventure, most students said it took a great deal of mustered courage to attempt the face and all agreed that the trust between climber and anchor man pulled the group closer

Earlier this spring students food and a lack of privacy.

The students also took first and snow shoeing.

well below normal.

recounted other

they reached Ottawa.

friendship and trust.

program.

carbohydrated "indelicacies"

The students' complaints travelled by the "voyageurs."

Cliff-hangers, canoe trip

Full marks to unusual course

By CHRIS AAGAARD Herald Staff Writer host of this contemporaries from the 17th century sat down with a packed audience in the Acton High School auditorium last Wednesday to talk about life in the New World.

The famous explorer's visit was part of a three-hour presentation by Acton high's senior total immersion history class, 16 members of which had just returned from a two-week, 250-mile canoe trip retracing the paths of early Canadian pioneers.

With slides and verbal descriptions, the students recounted for an audience of friends, relatives and classmates their well-planned journey into history, for which used by Upper Canada's furtrading voyageurs.

The students also assumed the characters of actual. historical personalities, led by Samuel de Champlain and a de Champlain, who was "impersonated" for the occasion by course instructor Paul Tamblyn. The brainchild of Dr.

Tamblyn, Acton high's total immersion course pits students against impressive and often awesome challenges throughout the semester.

The total immersion group includes students in grades 11, 12 and 13. Credits are given for participation in the program, and students study social sciences, science and technology, English, environmental physical science and

The classrooms, however, range in size from a normal they donned period costumes school room to the 60,000and paddled the rivers once square miles of Killarney Wilderness park on the shores of Georgian Bay.

The period costumes which

A reincarnated Samuel de Champlain? Not quite: Acton High's Dr. Paul Tamblyn dressed as the famous 17th century explorer as part of the school's total immersion group account of a recent canoe trip down the Ottawa River from North Bay. The total immersion students dressed in period costumes for the presentation to parents held in Acton High a week ago Tuesday.

Acton High's Dr. Paul Tamblyn is warmly bugged by a student who participated in his "total immersion" program in which students face and overcome a number of unusual challenges outside of the classroom. The students and Tamblyn dressed in 17th century explorers' costumes a week ago Tuesday to tell parents about a recent canoe trip taken as part of the program.

877-4686 DOWNTOWN GEORGETOWN

Parent responds to drug abuse issue in schools

the students wore on stage last To the editor of The Herald: Wednesday evening comprised I wish to remain anonymous suitable introduction for to protect the teachers, and their description of the recentthose who could be affected by ly completed North Bay-tothis letter. Ottawa cance trip down the

As a parent of two persons, 1 made it my business to know about drugs, but too late. A "pusher" introduced himself to my youngest at age 15. He was 20 years old. She became infatuated with his attention and helped him sell marijuana

Writer

To the editor of The Herald: I am writing to comment on one of your writers, Gerry Landsborough who, I understand is a Georgetown woman.

her articles on to me. I am very impressed with her writing. She seems to be well informed and ready to stand up for her convictions.

Friends have passed some of

There were two articles which I found outstanding: one in May '79 about abortion and one in March '80 about genetic

I am very encouraged by this journalist who believes in God's Golden Rule and defends the innocent, especially unborn children. I am looking forward to reading more articles by Mrs. Landsborough so please tell her to keep up the good work! (Mrs.) Valerie Wood.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Viewpoint columnist Gerry Landsborough is currently taking a well-deserved break from her writing chores; we'll make sure she gots the message.

More Juice Submerging a lemon in hot water for 15 minutes before squeezing it will yield almost twice as much FRIENDS, followed rules to make the family work, had praise for right, punishment and "hash oil". This all took school" in the Georgetown staff of the school, as there are

We as parents tried from'

infancy, to raise our children correctly and not exclude them

just too many students.

place at a "senior public than dire medical need is a big . stolen. problem. There is a rampant prescription issue to satisfy a patient's supposed need. Drugs are just too readily available.

I don't think it is a "basic vengeful instinct" that makes those in authority want stronger penalties for (not "against") drug abusers. If young people had any idealism in the first place, they would not use drugs in the second

Your statement calling young people "otherwise responsible young people" is a little misleading. If they were responsible they would not use drugs and would stand on their own two feet, and would be so busy trying to be somebody or something worthwhile, they would not have time to think of

We can not stop "chasing the pushers", although parental leniency is a major problem. Most parents are too busy enjoying their own life, to care about their children. If they would smarten up there would be almost no problem in the schools. Even with love and understanding, one of my own children went the drug route, and is having a hard time getting out of the subsequent predicaments, although these are not related to law, but the inability to cope with life and its requirements. Trusting this will help some other parents and alert those who think, 'It won't happen to my kids".

Name withheld on request

Come to Church

GEORGETOWN ALLIANCE CHURCH

PASTOR PETER RALPH

Sunday, June 29, 1980

Sunday School 9:45 a.m.

Morning Worship 11 a.m. Evening Service 6:30 p.m.

Come and Make our Church Your Church

Everyone Welcome

P. RALPH 877-9816

853-3923 ST. GEORGE'S CHURCH

Anglican REV. ROSWELL TEES Sunday, June 29, 1980 TRINITY IV

$:00 a.m. Holy Eucharist

10:00 a.m Family Eucharist

(NURSERY)

MAPLE AVENUE BAPTIST CHURCH

177 Maple Ave. Georgetown PASTOR EDWIN H. MITCHELL

Sunday, June 29, 1980 9:45 a.m. Family Bible School

11:00 a.m. Morning Worship "FORGIVENESS" Childrens Church 6:30 p.m. Summer Sharing

I Thes. 3. THE TEXANS ARE COMING July 13

25 YEARS AND GROWING IMMANUEL LUTHERAN

CHURCH Windsor Road at Carole St. Vacancy Pastor REV. ARTHUR RADER

Sunday, June 29, 1980 9 a.m. Worship Service 10:15 a.m. Sunday School Church of the Lutheran Hour

HALTON GOSPEL TEMPLE

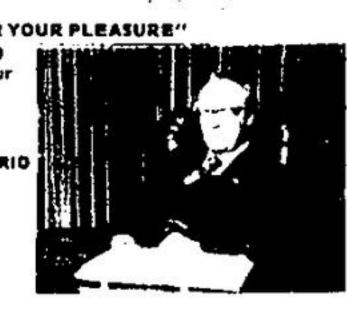

PASTOR ANGUS J. NICHOLSON PH. 877-2759

SUNDAY, JUNE 29, 1980

10:: a.m. - Christian Education Hour 11:00 a.m. - Merning Workshop 7:00 p.m. - Indeer Camp Meeting SPECIAL QUEST SPEAKER

7:00 P.M. ONLY — "THE MASTERS" EVERYBODY WELCOME

URGE EMPLOYERS TO HIRE STUDENTS

Dainty Flower

Basket Bouquets

for Bridesmaids.

Wisps of baby's breath

roses, carnations . . . a white basket.

82 Mill Street

Halton Hills

877-6901

The Greenhouse Floris

and pink satin streamers,

garden full of soft-colored flowers cascading from a

Funday F10R15TS

Student placement officers from Canada employment centres in the area were on hand at the North Halton Golf and Country Club Friday to help students find work this summer. One officer pointed out that employers would save time and money if

Later, he would walk through the halls of Georgetown District High School sell-Warning! Keep This is not the fault of the your cars locked from our social contacts with other adults, attended church as a family, were always To the editor of The Herald: available as parents and On Thursday, June 19, I left my car for a few minutes to go in the drugstore in Delrex When I returned, I found my Drug abuse or use for other return pop bottles had been

> I just want the thief to know it was my children's meals for three days; maybe some day he will go to bed hungry.

Also to the thief: you are known, since the bottles were in special cases and when you cashed them in Loblaws the clerk was alert enough to see car, even if you only leave it for a few minutes. Thanking you, Barb Thomas,

To other shoppers: lock your

Rexway Drive., Georgetown.

Thanks!

To the editor of The Herald: On behalf of the 676(L) Lorne Scots Army Cadet Corps, I would like to thank you for your coverage of our Seventh Annual Inspection.

Seeing their names in print and their pictures in the paper meant a great deal to the

Again, my sincere thanks for your co-operation. Yours sincerely,

Captain J. Hodskins.

they hire students through the student placement program. Pictured (left to right) are Sharon Schoffelmeer, Phil Aitken, Sharon Greenslade and Mary Connor. (Herald photo)

SECTION A. THE HERALD, Wednesday, June 25, 1980 - Page 5

The management of Ricci Coiffure Ann Marie Davis of their staff!

Ann Marie comes to Ricci Coiffure with qualifications in all facets of hairstyling.

Ann Marie invites her established clientele to come to Ricci Coiffure and also welcomes new customers.

Mod a Summer Hair-do?

Ann Marie Davis

Ricci Coiffure For appointments call

877-2209 Georgetown Market Place Guelph St. Georgetown

NATURALIZER Fashion's First Choice tor Comfort

PIONEERED start as low as

Sizes 5 to 11 AA, B, C & D (Not in all styles)

Cougar Dressy

30% OFF 50% OFF

TRULY PIONEERED PRICED!

HANDBAGS &

beautifully fashion styled and practical too!

Check them out.

REAL GENUINE BARGAINS!

(AT LEAST!) on ENTIRE MERCHANDISE

SALE ENDS 5:30 P.M. JUNE 21, 1980

STEP-RITE SHOES

WHERE FASHION & COMFORT GO TOGETHER 877-1263

Downtown Georgetown 39 Main St. S.