CANADA'S STAGE IS SET FOR SUMMER

No set designer would want to compete with Canada's naturally beautiful summer scenes. But summer and set designer combine to help make theatre festivals that are special and varied - everything from plays and opera to puppets, magic and music.

This year's Four Seasons Musical Theatre (Victoria, British Columbia), will premiere The Wonder of It All, a musical based on the life of Emily Carr, west coast artist and writer.

Starring Margaret Martin, written by Don Harron (who also wrote the musical Anne of Green Gables), and with music and lyrics by Norman and Elaine Campbell, Wonder will be staged at the Newcombe Theatre in the British Columbia Provincial Museum from June 27 to July 31. For today's (and yesterday's) children, Robin Hood will be up to his old tricks in several outdoor locations in Victoria.

There's more great music and song in the parkland setting of the Malkin Bowl, Stanley Park, Vancouver, as the Theatre Under the Stars presents two classics: Gilbert and Sullivan's The Mikado, July 3-12, and My Fair Lady, July 17 - August 2.

In Alberta's Banff it's hard to tear your eyes away from the scenery, but the annual Festival of the Arts' Celebration of Artists should provide the incentive with chamber recitals, piano and voice concerts, readings by Canadian authors and four major dance works.

On stage will be Otto Nicolai's opera, The Merry Wives of Windsor, August 8-9, Hertel Brecht's The Good Woman of Szechwan, August 20-23, and Michael Hawtree and David Warrack's The Drummer, August 22-24. Young artists' paintings, sculptures, ceramics and fibre arts will be on display for the entire season.

If you're too young to remember vaudeville then head north this summer to the Yukon for a lesson at Dawson's Gaslight Follies and Whitehorse's Frantic Follies. Both shows run from June to September featuring slapstick comedy, dancing girls and the colorful characters of the Klondike era. In Dawson City, the setting is the lovely old Palace Grand Theatre, opened in 1899 and restored to its former splendor in the 1960s.

Trials often make fascinating theatre (as long as it's not you in the box). The annual Trial of Louis Riel, complete with authentic costumes and courtroom setting re-created in the ballroom of Saskatchewan House, Regina, retells the story of the controversial and fiery Metis leader, Riel, determined to protect his people's interests, led them in an uprising which resulted in - well, come and see! Performances are on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays, July 2 - August 27.

There's more family entertainment in the domed outdoor theatre in Winnipeg's Kildonan Park as the Rainbow Stage presents Guns and Dolls, July 12-19, and Showboat, August 5-23, daily except Mondays. About an hour's drive north from Winnipeg, at Gimli, Manitoba, the Interlake Festival is staging You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown, June 23 - July 13; Clarence Darrow, July 16-27; Oh! Coward, July 30 - August 10, and Plaza Suite, August 13-24.

Gimli is a popular summer resort with fine sandy beaches and holiday facilities and displays of the original Icelandic settlers crafts.

Niagara-on-the-Lake's Shaw Festival has an exciting new artistic director and fans are anticipating great interpretations of such old classics as The Cherry Orchard, Misalliance and A Flea in Her Ear.
