

Letters to the Editor

Young people's work initiative has changed her opinion

To the editor of The Herald:

It is sometimes customary in this day and age to criticize and question the attitude towards work as far as the younger generation is concerned.

May I say, my impression has changed. Two young men, Brian Nuttal and David Bagby have formed their own landscaping firm called "Finer Living Space" and have completed a beautiful piece of landscaping at my home. We tend to underestimate the ability of our young people.

Canadian boys and girls can measure up to any other citizens of other countries. You young people are the backbone of our nation.

Those students who are still looking for employment should follow Brian and David's example. There is no substitute for initiative and hard work.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Norma F. Elliott.

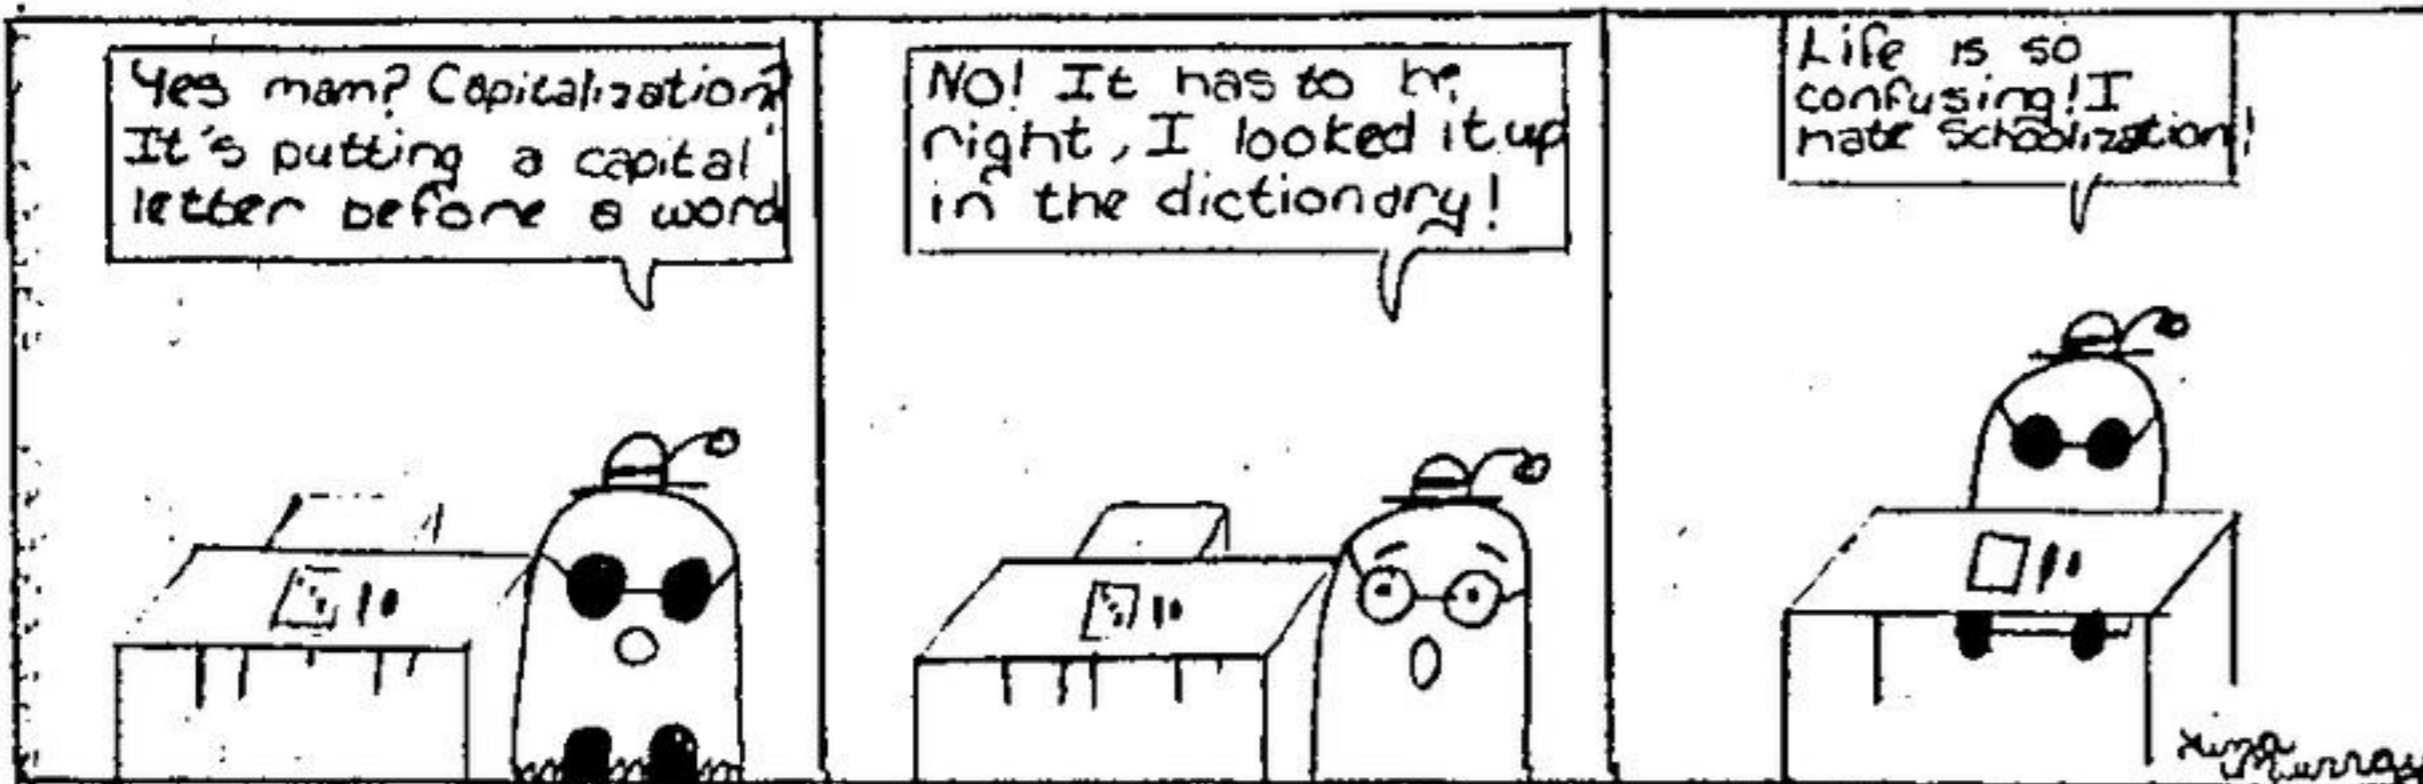

THEY DID THE MASH

(Herald photo)

The Milton Public Library provided a little light relief for the younger crowd in the Georgetown branch of the Halton Hills Public Library last week. The "Monster Mash" visited Georgetown, complete with the Three Billy Goats Gruff, shown here with their friends, Shirley Hamill and Allison Brown. The puppet show was only part of the "mash", which also included stories and a film.

Look out, Landry, here comes Tina

To the editor of The Herald: I am interested in becoming a cartoonist or illustrator. Here is a sample of my work. I would appreciate your opinion on it. My name is Tina Murray and I am 12 years old. I'm in grade 8 in Centennial Middle School. I was wondering if my cartoon has any merit.

Yours truly,
Tina Murray.

Beaver Camp best of season

To the editor of The Herald: June 21st weekend, one of the best so far this summer, heralded a tremendously successful "North Halton District Beaver Camp" outing. More than 280 beavers, parents, scouts (our volunteer cooks), beaver leaders and other scouting executives attended this fun-filled, action-packed camp at the Orangeville Conservation Area.

games, and nature hikes. A carnival of games and a puppet show was the highlight of the weekend. The camp site itself was a mass of color with the tents and of course, the various cowboys, Indians, pioneer men and women wandering about certainly added to the atmosphere.

A thanks to all of you for a job well done.

Ann Wickham,
Leader,
4th Georgetown Beavers.

Thanks to all for their help

To the editor of The Herald: Sunday afternoon, July 6, a celebration was held at 20 Elizabeth St. in Georgetown to honor our parents, Matthew and Harriet Hennessey, on the occasion of their 60th wedding anniversary.

Also to our neighbors on Elizabeth Street, thank you all very much for allowing the inconvenience of taking up your parking spaces for our guests.

Sincerely,
