Second-place Etobicoke win highlight of ladies volleyball

The Georgetown Ladies Volleyball League completed a successful 1979-80 season this week with a banquet.

The league was invited to compete in several ladies' volleyball tournaments, organized by Brampton, Etobicoke and Rexdale groups.

Although the Georgetown ladies had not been organized for more than a year, they improved steadily over the season and did well in the invitations. The season's highlight for Georgetown was a second place win in a May 6 Etobicoke tournament.

The Georgetown ladies held their own invitational on April 22, and gracefully lost to the Brampton representatives.

The league's activities and scope will be broadened in the upcoming season to provide opportunities for recreational as well as competitive volleyball play. There will be a house league of four to six teams, which will meet weekly. It is intended to be a recreational league, with organized play, tournaments and fun nights spread over the season.

Two representative teams will be selected from the house league, composed of the more competitive and skilled players. These teams have been invited to play on a regular basis in the newly-organized Halton-York-Peel Ladies Volleyball Association.

Registration for the 1980-81 season of the Georgetown Ladies Volleyball League will be held at Cedarvale Community Centre on Tuesday, July 29, from 7:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. Those who cannot attend the registration are asked to contact Pat Boeckner at 877-8912, after 5:00 p.m. Action will begin the second week in September.

All age groups are represented in the league, with the one stipulation that all ladies must be 19 years and over.

Skill level ranges from beginner to expert. The league is hoping that all players from last season will return and that many new players will also join.

This headball by a Toronto Police Blues player eluded the Georgetown Falcon goaltender Monday night at Cedarvale for the first goal of the game. The Police won the rough and tumble match 2-0.
